

TOM CORBETT

HAS BEEN APPOINTED OFFICIAL BETTING COMMISSIONER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—In order to protect bettors who may lay wagers on the Jeffries-Johnson fight, Tex Rickard last night appointed Tom Corbett official betting commissioner. He authorized Corbett to handle all of the money that may be bet on the fighters and gave him the exclusive privilege of sending his assistants through the crowd at the ring on the day of the contest.

The first big bet was received by Corbett last night from Irving Well of St. Joseph, Mo., who wired $3500 to be laid against $5000 on Johnson to whip Jeffries.

JIM JEFFRIES

ORDERED TO PAY A PROMISSORY NOTE

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., June 8.—J. J. Jeffries must pay a promissory note given a citizen of Bear Valley, or stop training for his bout with Johnson long enough to come to this city and defend the case brought against him. When the case was called in court yesterday the attorney for Jeffries asked a continuance to some date after the big fight but Judge Jones set the case for June 15th. Jeffries is being sued by C. A. Stout to recover $2000. The fighter in his answer claims the note was given to pay a gambling debt.

JIM JEFFRIES

PREFERS HANDBALL TO THE BOXING GAME

BEN LOMOND, Cal., June 8.—Jim Jeffries would rather play handball than spar. Ben Lomond is convinced of that; also the crowd of visitors who flocked into camp here yesterday in the expectation of seeing Jeffries box with Corbett and who had to satisfy themselves with a handball exhibition between the former champions. Jeffries' training companions account for his disinclination to box on the assumption that as he is careful in his training bouts not to let himself out, sparing "under wraps" is irksome to him. As is well known whatever Jeffries does he does with all his might and between the necessity of holding himself in at boxing and the privilege of turning himself loose at handball, the latter form of exercise wins his vote every time. In proof of this contention his trainers quote a recent re-

ANOTHER AMERICAN GIRL TO BE FIRST LADY OF INDIA

LONDON, June 8.—A New York girl is to divide honors in ruling India. For the second time in its history the splendor of the courts of India will be graced by a native of the United States. King George V's cabinet has decided to appoint Hon. Lewis Harcourt as viceroy of India to succeed Lord Minto, it is said. Miss Mary Elmer Burns, daughter of the late W. H. Burns of New York, is the wife of Harcourt. Lord Curzon of Kedleston, who married Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago, was the viceroy of India before Lord Minto. Lord Minto is expected to be succeeded by Harcourt within the next month. Minto has grown tired of the post owing to the many dangers that surround it. Several times within the last year attempts have been made on his life by Indian Nationalists. Harcourt is a millionaire and has proved one of the ablest members of parliament and of the English cabinet, now holding the post of first commissioner of works.

BILLY NOLAN

WAS JOHNSON'S MANAGER BUT SHORT TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—In view of what has happened to George Little and Billy Nolan many are asking if Jack Johnson's latest managerial move will prove to be only a temporary one.

According to last night's announcement of the negro champion, Tom Flanagan, the athlete who has come into prominence as the developer of Lou-boat and other long distance champions and who is in charge of Johnson's training will be a sort of near-manager for the fighter.

"He will help me to manage my business affairs until July 1st," runs Johnson's statement and he says he is sorry that Flanagan's personal affairs will take the runner to Canada immediately after the big fight.

Light on the reason of Billy Nolan's easy relinquishment of the job of managing the negro was shed last night by Promoter Tex Rickard, who stated that he urged Johnson in the interest of harmony not to take Nolan

"Hard Hit"

That's the story in a nutshell, say WAIST MANUFACTURERS this season. Cancellations and unfavorable trade conditions are responsible. A maker of High Grade waists, in his mad search last week for a merchant with ready money, came to us with a sacrifice proposition for SPOT CASH. Fortunately we had the money, and the conditions were just ripe, all in our favor to drive a hard bargain. When the deal went through we smiled and said: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." Then thought of the great savings to our customers, otherwise impossible but for the power of ready cash and the clinching of a timely purchase. June will surely be a lively waist month at the waist shop.

GEN'L RIVAS

Has Issued Statement Defying the United States Government

BLUEFIELDS, Nic., June 8.—"At the first shot fired against the American flag or an American vessel, I will level the blow."

This is the reply made yesterday by Commander Herold K. Rivas, commanding the American gunboat Dubuque, to a threat made by Gen. Rivas, of the Madrid force holding Bluefields, that to stop by force any vessels of whatever nationality entering the harbor.

Gen. Rivas has practically defied the United States, declaring that he will disregard the proclamation issued from Washington on May 31 to the effect that the United States government denied the right of either faction to seize American-owned vessels or property without consent of and recompense to the owners.

He has warned Commander Hines that he will prevent his force, regardless of flag, any further vessels from entering the harbor. In response to this, the American commander immediately sent to him the above message, which would mean the annihilation of the handful of Madrid troops now remaining in the neighborhood.

A critical situation has thus arisen which may involve the United States, but the American officers here are of the opinion that Gen. Rivas will not attempt to make good his threat in an effort to collect customs duties.

There are constant rumors of threats against the life of Thomas P. Moffatt, the American consul here, and the whole atmosphere of Bluefields, instead of quieting, has assumed a more serious aspect.

Gen. Carlton, who has followed up the retreat of Gen. Chavarria, one of the commanders of the Madrid army, has overtaken him at a mining point some distance from Rivas. Chavarria had established his forces in the houses, as a means of defense, and Carlton notified him that as he did not wish to make an attack for fear of damaging property belonging to foreigners, he would give him an hour to abandon his position; otherwise he would begin a bombardment.

According to latest reports Gen. Chavarria is continuing his retreat beyond the Topaz mines, with Carlton's force in pursuit.

The prisoners who were taken at the time of the defeat of Gen. Lara, have been sent to work on the streets of Bluefields, under the charge of sanitary officers and marines. Gen. Estrada is showing a firm hand. He is opening the banana interests, which is helping business in other directions. Gen. Lara is still in flight in the swamp pursued by Gen. Senez, who is sending prisoners back daily.

GREAT NOVELTIES

At the Barnum and Bailey Circus Friday

Never before has any circus brought forth so many novelties as are this season disclosed beneath the tents of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth. The best of them all is Desperado, a rash Frenchman, who dives from the dome of the tent, striking the ground on his chest. Not far behind him in thrilling interest is Jupiter, a magnificent horse, that goes up in a balloon and comes down in a flood of fireworks. A young French woman rides the horse during its spectacular and dangerous trip.

Another novelty, worthy the notice of profound scientists, is offered by Charlie the First. He is a chimpanzee, yet he has by self-teaching, made of himself the greatest bicyclist rider and acrobat ever seen with any circus. He presents an act on one of the stages that is alarming. Still another sensational achievement is that of one of the Siegrist-Silbon family of acrobats. He flies across the width of the great hall, his eyes blind-folded, turns a double somersault in space and catches the wrists of a comrade hanging head down from a flying swing.

Those who are fond of trained animal acts will be surprised and delighted by a company of Hungarian stables. They enter the arena walking on their hind feet. They wait to the music of their band and execute all the intricate steps of a comrade marching, entirely to music cues and with the exactness of a well-drilled chorus. They play a little farce, the scene of which is laid in a roadside inn. One horse is the landlord. Another is a tipsy guest. A third is the county constable. A supper party ends in a row and the constable takes the whole bunch off to the calaboose.

Winston's seals are another astonishing specialty. They ride horses, juggle fire-bands, skip the rope, walk the plank, play on string instruments and juggle light and heavy objects with more skill than any man has ever shown. Paula Peter's monkey and dog circus is another remarkable novelty. It is full of comedy as well. She has a baboon that is an accomplished juggler. His mount is a big Russian sheep dog. She has a fire department of dogs that responds to an alarm and rushes out with complete fighting equipment. A colie captain of a horse company mounts a ladder to the second story of a cottage and rescues a poodle from flame and

Other novelties are introduced by Victoria Codona, the heat wire-walker in the world; the Kenyon full European riders; the four La Failles, the strongest men in the world; the Nettle Carroll quartet of aerial wire acrobats; the Davenport family of equestrians; the Abreu family of Mexican acrobats; the Apollon trio of golden statues performing the wonderful Pally-Franks, the Dollars, the Alexander company of midge acrobats and the Garcinillas, formerly comedians in the palace of the Sultan of Turkey.

The fifty best clowns in the world keep the audience in constant laughter. The biggest menagerie on earth is on exhibition. In it is the first baby giraffe ever born in captivity and the only one ever seen in America. This forenoon parade is the wonder of the age in pageantry. It is a panorama of 1000 world wonders. It will pass through the usual parade route in this city on the morning of Friday, June 10, giving the people an idea of the wonders under the tents.

GIFFORD PINCHOT

TO FIGHT BILL FOR WITHDRAWAL OF PUBLIC LANDS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Former Forester Gifford Pinchot descended on the capitol yesterday for the avowed purpose of exerting his influence to prevent the passage by the senate of the administration bill to permit the president to withdraw public lands for conservation purposes.

This action was taken as the result of an interview he had with Senator Smoot, who is in charge of the measure, in which the former forester urged the adoption of an amendment striking out the provision which would permit of the exploration and purchase of the land.

W. A. Johnson of the editorial staff of the New York World, offered a silver trophy for annual competition among amateurs, the qualifying requirement being a flight of forty miles.

HOLY NAME

OF ST. MICHAEL'S EXPECTS MANY NEW MEMBERS

The general committee of the Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish held its monthly meeting Wednesday night at the school hall on Seventh street. The sub-committee which had in charge the arrangements of the May procession held on May 23rd was complimented by Rev. Fr. Mullin for the grand work done in interesting the members of the society on that occasion. The membership committee reported that it found much interest manifested by the young men of the parish and expected that at the coming reception into the Holy Name society the membership would be greatly increased. The regular meeting of the society will be held next Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock and the members will turn out in large numbers as usual.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A class of 21 new members received the Malta degree at last night's meeting of the Knights of Malta at Odd Fellows Temple, Middlesex street. The work was done by Deputy Grand Commander Andrew G. Robinson of Everett and the degree work was supervised by Master James W. Chapman. It was a late hour when adjournment was taken. At the next meeting these same 21 candidates will receive the black degree.

of withdrawn lands, under the mining laws.

It is said there were sharp clashes between Senator Smoot and Mr. Pinchot, who had been fast friends for many years. Their views were directly opposed and when they separated Mr. Pinchot announced that he felt it to be his duty to prevent the passage of the bill, or bring about its amendment, if it were possible for him to do so.

The pending bill would provide that all lands withdrawn "shall at all times be open to exploration, discovery, occupation and purchase, under the mining laws of the United States, so far as coal, oil, gas and phosphates."

In his statement Mr. Smoot, Mr. Pinchot declared that this language would permit the filing of a mining claim upon a power site and the government could not dislodge the claimant, regardless of how great a monopoly was created. Mr. Smoot replied that even that would not be allowed without investigation and that it would be necessary for the claimant to prove that the tract first upon contained valuable mineral.

Saying that Mr. Pinchot was unduly alarmed and that the friends of the pending bill were the ones who were using every effort to prevent monopoly by placing unlimited authority in the hands of the president, Mr. Smoot urged the former forester not to take the action he outlined.

The interview closed with a statement by Mr. Smoot that it was the enlargement of what had been a same conservation policy, until it had worked in justice to communities, that made it difficult now to enact satisfactory legislation.

It is expected that Mr. Doliver, to whom Mr. Pinchot addressed the letter which resulted in his dismissal from the government service, will be the former forester's champion in the move to compel, if possible, the adoption of an amendment to the bill.

EDWIN GOULD

OFFERS A PRIZE OF $15,000 TO AVIATOR

NEW YORK, June 8.—At a dinner given last night by the New York Press club to Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator, Dr. J. B. Walker, editor of the Scientific American, announced that Edwin Gould would offer a prize of $15,000 to the first aviator who should design a twin screw aeroplane, driven by twin motors, more efficient than the present single propeller type with which all flights have thus far been made.

W. A. Johnson of the editorial staff of the New York World, offered a silver trophy for annual competition among amateurs, the qualifying requirement being a flight of forty miles.

STRIKE ENDED

SCRANTON, Pa., June 8.—The strike of the 12,000 miners employed in the collieries of the Pennsylvania coal companies ended Sunday and Wilkesbarre was brought to an end yesterday. The trouble will be settled by arbitration.

TORONTO TEAM WON

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The Lacrosse team of the University of Toronto, champions of Canada, defeated the team of Swarthmore college at Swarthmore yesterday afternoon by the score of 5 to 2, winning the American championship.

Valuable Advice to Sufferers From Skin Diseases.

Under no circumstances should medicated or plain soap or any preparation containing alcohol or water, be used by sufferers from eczema and similar skin troubles. Those things aggravate the trouble and make it impossible for the skin to heal. The new medical compound called Cadum is the best and surest remedy as it contains neither water nor alcohol. When applied, it excludes the air and other irritating agents, stops the itching at once, and sets up the healing process immediately. Most wonderful cures are reported from all sections. Cadum is just as effective in the treatment of psoriasis, ringworm, pimples, blotches, such eruptions, chafing, itching piles, pruritic scalp, scabs, sores, acne, herpes, etc. 10c and 25c. ## GLIDDEN TOUR

Everything in Readiness for Big Event

The seventh national tour of the American Automobile association for the Glidden and Chicago trophies starts from Cincinnati June 11. All of the manufacturers who have entered the competition have completed the fitting of their cars for the long trip. Their drivers and managers will report to Chairman Butte of the American Automobile association contest board, at the Gibson house, Cincinnati, O., not later than Sunday, the 13th instant, for final instructions.

Special rules have been issued by the board for the 1910 reliability test. They are based on a fixed penalty schedule and in many ways are different from the rules governing former national tours.

Cars competing for the historic Glidden trophy must be fully equipped for touring cars; those competing for the trophy offered by the Chicago Motor club must be either miniature tonneaus or of the runabout type. Both trophies will be awarded on the same merit determining system, and if there are two or more cars tied, or with perfect scores, in either division of the competition, neither of the trophies will be awarded. The perfect score cars will, in this event, be presented with suitable medals, certifying that they have qualified as winners, and their names will be properly inscribed upon the respective trophies for which they were entered.

Cars finishing in either division with 97 per cent of the winning score will be awarded "Certificates," setting forth in detail their performances upon the road.

Never before have the cars in a National tour been subjected to a penalization system which is more practical for the purposes of the motor car user. The machines leave Cincinnati only after a rigid examination by the technical committee of the A. A. contest board.

Prior to the start the makers must file with the contest board their stock car cuts, in which they minutely describe every mechanical part of the competing machines. These stock car certificates are filed by the maker alone and sworn to before a notary. When the machines are gone over by the technical committee, they must in every particular conform to these stock car certificates. Absolutely nothing but stock cars can start in either division. In addition to four passengers or more, the cars are compelled to carry the full equipment as catalogued by their makers.

All cars leave Cincinnati with a clean score. There is an observer on every machine. These observers, so far as they are arranged, ride every day of the tour. They make a written report daily to the technical committee of everything which has taken place in connection with the car they have been observing.

Each adjustment made or part replaced on a car during its allotted running time between contests, is noted by the observer and charged for in "points," according to a printed schedule of penalty charges in the rules. Practically nothing can be done on a car after it is checked out, without penalty being imposed aside from replacing tires or rims.

Not more than three cars of any one make can compete in either body equipment class of the tour. All tools used on the trip must be carried in a special tool bag provided for that purpose, and this bag must be constantly under the control of the observer.

Any attempt at fraud in the evasion of the stock car definition or status of a car on the part of an entrant disqualifies the car, the entrant and the driver. An inventory must be furnished the technical committee, prior to the start of the tour, of each extra part carried in a car.

Valuable Advice to Sufferers From Skin Diseases.

Under no circumstances should medicated or plain soap or any preparation containing alcohol or water, be used by sufferers from eczema and similar skin troubles. Those things aggravate the trouble and make it impossible for the skin to heal. The new medical compound called Cadum is the best and surest remedy as it contains neither water nor alcohol. When applied, it excludes the air and other irritating agents, stops the itching at once, and sets up the healing process immediately. Most wonderful cures are reported from all sections. Cadum is just as effective in the treatment of psoriasis, ringworm, pimples, blotches, such eruptions, chafing, itching piles, pruritic scalp, scabs, sores, acne, herpes, etc. 10c and 25c. ## A PRETTY OPERA

By Clever Amateurs at St. Louis' Hall

"Chonfeuri," a pretty opera, was presented in St. Louis' hall in West Centralville last night by a capable cast which was under the direction of Rev. Abbe Portier. There was a large attendance and much applause was given during the course of the production.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presence of about 200 members of Les Artistes Canadiens-Francais, who entered the hall in a body and occupied seats in front of the hall. The cast of characters was as follows:

Chonfeuri, rentier. T. D. Chagnon, M. D. Chrysomide Babilas, jeune coiffeuse, Leo Morin. Peterman, domestique de Chonfeuri. Aroele Brunelle. Balandard, invite. E. C. Gaurin. Regulisman, telephoniste. ## THE RIVER ROAD

Measure Still in the Governor's Hands

Senator Joseph H. Hibbard and Harold Parker, chairman of the Massachusetts highway commission, held a conference with Gov. Draper yesterday over the bill to authorize the committee of Middlesex and Essex to construct the proposed highway from Lowell through Dracut to Methuen and Lawrence.

As proposed by the county commissioners the new road will cost about $32,000, but Chairman Parker of the highway commission puts the cost at $23,000.

Under the bill the county commissioners will proceed to construct the road and then after it is built it is proposed that the state highway commissioners shall take it over as a state road and continue its maintenance. Mr. Parker wanted the new road laid out in a width of 60 feet, and this Senator Hibbard said would entail such an expense that the city of Lowell, which under the bill is to pay 25 per cent of the cost to the county of Middlesex, would not stand for it. The counties pay 50 per cent; Lowell pays 25 per cent, and Dracut pays 10 per cent.

The Lowell senator would not move to recall the bill from the governor to amend it as Chairman Parker wanted it, and Gov. Draper said it was up to them. The time limit of five days is up today. Then if the governor does not veto it, the bill becomes a law without his signature.

DIAMOND NOTES

Manager Billy Hamilton of the Lynn team feels very sore over the loss of the game at Glen Forest last Friday. He feels so bad about it that he protests it. Hamilton says that Lantieri gave a poor decision and that the decision put Lynn in bad. Those who saw the game will hardly place any stock in Hamilton's protesting as Lawrence won fair and square. Charles Girard, Lynn's pitcher has been fined $50 and it is said that he has jumped the team. He has been in bad in Lynn for some time—Lawrence Eagle.

Mike Flynn joined Worcester Monday to play shortstop. He played with Lawrence for a part of last season and was sold to Springfield. Burkett tried to get the shortstop last year before he got Yerkes, but could not. Lawrence lost pitcher Dahlgren, who was coming to this city from the Syracuse club of the New York state league. The trader was let go by that club and Manager Rannan asked for the player's terms. These were wired back and then Manager Rannan wired back the acceptance of them. In the meantime the pitcher had received another offer to go somewhere in the west. Lawrence got Dahlgren though, and he looks good. Dahlgren is said to be a corker and if he came to this league would be a big help to the pitching staff.

Klondike Smith, the Lawrence boy, is to play regularly for Lynn hereafter. The plan of Manager Flanagan is to play Standard on first base. Terry McGovern will be sent to his old position behind the bat. Lavigne will be chance catcher. Smith will play right field. Flanagan likes Smith exceptionally well and thinks so well of Smith that he has kept him on the bench. Now Klondike will have just the chance he wants and his Lawrence friends hope he makes good.

Manager Flanagan of the Brockton team has a new pitcher. His name is Thompson and he comes from New York city. He was with the Toronto club of the Eastern league and upon being let go by that club Flanagan got busy and annexed the player. He is said to be a good man. Thompson reported to Flanagan in this city Monday morning. Brockton has released Catcher Creek, who showed up poor in this city last Wednesday, and Pitcher Parkins, who was a part of the trade whereby Hickman and Waters went to the Three I league. Parkins is said to be a warm weather pitcher.

Frank Connaughton, the Waterbury captain, was the first player in the league to reach the quarter century mark in runs scored. Connaught got his 25th Sunday.

Bill Massey, the former Holyoke performer, and last year with Lowell and Lawrence, has been handed his walking papers by the Lancaster club of the Penna State league.

JACK JOHNSON

Has Chosen Tom Flanagan for Manager

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 8.—That Tom Flanagan will act as business manager for Jack Johnson until after the big fight of July 4, was the announcement made yesterday at the beach quarters. Johnson made the announcement in the following signed statement:

"Tom Flanagan will help me manage my business affairs until July 4, 1910. While not a prize fighter, he is one of the best known amateur athletes who has ever competed and is respected for his honesty and integrity by the press and public the world over. I am sorry that I cannot have Flanagan with me for a longer period, but his business interests in Canada require his attention and he would not consent to absent himself from them any longer."

This statement is said to mean that Johnson will conduct his own business affairs and that he will have no manager for the time being. Flanagan and Sig Hurt will do the clerical work but it will be the name of Jack Johnson that will be attached to all contracts. George Little, aside from many threats to acquaintances about stopping the fight, kept quiet yesterday. He again attempted to have Chief of Police Martin interfere, but the latter refused to take any part in the controversy. Johnson served notice on the proprietors of his training camp, that he would not remain if Little was allowed around the quarters, and the Chicagoans was conspicuous yesterday by his absence.

Johnson did road work in the morning. He went the usual course of 12 miles. It was the program to do some gymnasium work in the afternoon, but on account of the cold weather and that he is low in weight, he rested all the afternoon.

FIRST BIG WAGER

CHICAGO, June 8.—The first large wager in Chicago on the coming Jeffries-Johnson prize fight, was made yesterday between Andy Craig and Edward Dickinson. Craig bet $10,000 against $6,000 that Jeffries would win.

DAVE DESHLER LOST

BOSTON, June 8.—A straight left and a right uppercut, used continuously and effectively throughout the fight, were Eddie Murphy's weapons in the decision over Dave Deshler of Cambridge, at the end of 12 rounds of fast and interesting fighting at the Armory Athletic association last night.

Johnny Moran of New York easily outpointed "Al" Limerick of Haverhill in eight rounds in the preliminaries. Limerick going to the floor once in the fifth.

Tommy Furey of Atholboro, outfought "Kid" Panitz of Hallowell, Me., in their bout of eight rounds, Panitz however, winning hearty applause for his staying qualities and ability to take hard punishment.

TWIN SULLIVAN WON

NEW YORK, June 8.—Jack (Twin) Sullivan, of Cambridge, Mass., was entitled to a close decision last night over Jim Stuart, the Brooklyn light heavyweight, in a ten round bout fought at the Fairmont Athletic club. Stewart was fully 30 pounds heavier than Sullivan and nearly a foot taller. There were no knock downs.

TROUBLE IN CAMP

BEN LOMOND, Cal., June 8.—Close following the managerial break in Jack Johnson's camp, there are indications of something brewing in Jeffries' camp. Just what is in the air cannot be learned; but the presence at Ben Lomond of Eddie Graney, the San Francisco referee, and Jack Gleason, one of the promoters of the fight, gave rise to rumors and speculation.

Graney said he came to Ben Lomond merely to see Jeffries and Corbett in action in their first sparring bout, but this explanation is not generally accepted around the camp. Graney and Sam Berger, Jeffries' manager, are said to be anything but friendly; and vague rumors floating about the camp have it that the presence of the "honored blacksmith" does not augur well for Sam.

Gleason, like Graney, said he came to see Jeffries and "Gentleman Jim" don the gloves for the first time.

Jeffries' good humor seems to be the best barometer of conditions in the camp and if any disturbing winds are blowing as a result of Gleason's and Graney's visit, they have not yet ruffled the feelings of Jeffries.

For the second time, the first boxing bout between Jeffries and Corbett suffered a postponement and caused disappointment to a large crowd of enthusiasts who came down from San Francisco to see the former champion and the undefeated one in action. At the last moment Jeffries decided to await the completion of his outdoor ring before donning the gloves with Corbett.

Camp visitors were entertained with a warmly contested game of handball between the two former champions, Jeffries won.

MOLLY VARNUMS MET

The 16th anniversary of the birth of Molly Varnum was celebrated yesterday at the Spaulding house in Dawtucket street by Molly Varnum chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. There was a large attendance and the meeting proved to be an enjoyable one.

Mrs. Charles M. Williams gave an interesting but informal talk on her personal experiences in Italy. Refreshments were served by the hospitably committee.

PICTORIAL SIDE LIGHTS FROM JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP IN ROWARDENNAN, CAL.

BEN LOMOND, June 8.—Pugilistic experts who recently arrived at Jeffries' training camp have been surprised by the big fellow's grand condition. In fact, many of them have declared their opinion that if no accident or sudden illness befalls him he will enter the ring July 4 for his championship battle with Jack Johnson in perfect physical trim. A majority of the experts at the camp are of the opinion that he is practically in fighting condition now and needs only to watch with extreme care that he does not overtrain himself before the day of the next week.

NORMAL SCHOOL

THE BEAUTIES OF ORGANIZED PLAY ILLUSTRATED

A demonstration of organized play was given yesterday afternoon at the Normal school grounds by the teachers and pupils of the Bartlett school under the direction of Miss Milton H. Miller of the Normal school. Among the spectators at the exhibition was John J. Pickman, of the park commission, who was greatly interested in the work.

Six groups of children, representing all the grades from the kindergarten to the ninth grade, inclusive, took part in the games. The music for the games was furnished by Miss Edith Andrews and Miss Gertrude Merrill, pianists.

The 40 children in the kindergarten division were taken from the four kindergarten schools, 10 from each, and the teachers in charge were the following:

Helen W. Noyes and Edith A. Andrews, Bartlett kindergarten; Louise L. Smith and Helen S. Livingston, Pine street kindergarten; Louise L. Smith and Helen S. Livingston, Pine Street Elizabeth A. Wilson and Ella M. Penn, Dover street kindergarten; Marietta King and S. Horsene Tabor, Pawtucket kindergarten.

The teachers of the Bartlett school, who directed the children of the nine grades in their games, are: Herbert D. Bixby, principal; Belle A. Prescott, Blanche A. Cheney, Charlotte M. Murkland, Amy L. Tucke, Frances Clarke, Eva Connell, Belle E. Bachelier, Mary E. Walsh, Maria W. Roberts, Katherine E. Farley, Alice D. Sumner, Gertrude H. McNulty, Kathleen E. Driscoll, Bridget K. Smith, Sara E. Amer, A. Gertrude Stiles, Esle E. Roche, E. Belle Perlman.

Following is the program as given by the various groups:

Group I, kindergarten—1, Lasso; 2, points; 3, rockling horse; 1, pigskin; 5, skipping; 6, fisher; 7, barnyard; 8, soldier boy.

LOCAL EAGLES COLONEL ASTOR

Conducted Initiation in To Make Flights for Lawrence Monday Newport Society

City hall, Lawrence, was the scene of a big gathering of Eagles Monday night, when the Lowell degree stuff together with the aerial officers, conducted a class initiation of 132 candidates of Lawrence aerie 218. More than a hundred members of the Lowell aerie accompanied their officers and degree team and a large number of the Lawrence members were on hand, making the event one of the largest ever held in Lawrence circles of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

It was the regular meeting night and for the first few moments the aerie was busy disposing of current affairs. Then the Lowell officers, Worthington, President John H. Farrell, Worthington, Past-President William Higglus and Worthington Vice President Joseph McGirr, together with the degree team under the leadership of Conductor John Ivers, took charge of the affair and conducted the candidates through the first stages of initiation. The ritual and degree work was performed in a most capable manner by the Lowell brothers, making the initiation very impressive. The Lowell aerie 223 was accompanied by their own orchestra, under the leadership of John J. Hamilton, who made it lively by their stirring selections.

The degree work being finished the members were all seated and a refreshing lunch was served by Pro. William Ivers, assisted by an able corps of waitresses. The social hour which followed was featured by a splendid array of talent. Some of the entertainers were:

Songs, B. J. Kearney; song, James J. Carney; duet, William Ivers and Joseph Blott; song, James J. Carney, Jr.; song, Walter Danforth; recitation, Dr. John T. Cahill. Several other members contributed songs and recitations at the request of President John Hannagan, who acted in the capacity of toastmaster. After enjoying a most pleasant evening the meeting broke up, the Lowell delegation returning to this city in two special cars.

Express—Alphonse Demars, 23 Rye street; Fred P. Pasho, Billerica.

HANGED HIMSELF

Cambridge Boy Ended His Life

WESTBORO, June 8.—Ending his young life, 14 year old John Newman of Cambridge yesterday hanged himself in the detention room of the Lyman school for boys, of which he was an inmate. The lad had escaped from the institution Monday and at midnight was found by attendants, who brought him back and placed him in the detention room. He was visited several times during the day, but last night the attendants who entered the room to give him supper found the boy's body hanging at the end of a noose in the sheet which he had attached to a grating in the ceiling. Young Newman was the son of William F. Newman of the Cambridge fire department.

The entertainment consisted of a selection by the Colonial orchestra, recitations by the St. Peter's Mandolin and Guitar club, solos by James E. Donnelly and selections by the Glenmullin quartet. This quartet made one of the hits of the evening. The selections were good and excellently sung while the solo work by Mr. Golden was especially worthy of remark. One of the features of the evening was the rendition of the Federal Commandery march composed by Frank Deignan, of the Federal Shoe company. Mr. Deignan deserves much credit for his composition.

Drexel, nee Marjorie Gould, and Lady Violet Manners, one of the three daughters of the Duke of Rutland.

THE POLICE BOARD

Granted a Number of Minor Licenses

The board of police met in regular session last night. The meeting was held in the court of second sessions owing to the fact that the office of the board of police is undergoing a renovation and at the present time resembles a paint shop more than a business office.

The open meeting was short. Two officers in second hand clothing, Jacob Novak and David Bernstein, both with pieces of business in Middlesex street, were summoned before the board to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. Novak appeared before the court last week and was found guilty of receiving stolen property and for that reason he was called before the board. Novak asked for a continuance so that he could be represented by counsel and the hearing will be held Tuesday night.

Bernstein was charged with purchasing a stolen coat without reporting the purchase to the police as provided for by the regulations. The court in question was found at Bernstein's store by one of the inspectors. The case was continued for a week.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses:

License surrendered and cancelled: Common victualler—Emerson N. Romborg, 183 Merrimack street.

Licenses granted: Auctioneer—Adelard Bolger, 205 West Sixth street; to sell ice cream, confectionery, etc., on the Lord's day—Mary A. Nawn, 158 Church street; John E. Dillon, 125 Andrews street; Annie Tomboy, 53 Wanda street; Nellie B. Reardon, 558 Reg-

"THE SAVING SPOT" IN THE NEW BARGAIN BASEMENT*ASKS INJUNCTION*Woman Says Man is Annoying Her

BOSTON, June 8.—Bertha S. M. Hall, a stenographer, living at 126 Berkeley street, brought a bill in the superior court yesterday against William A. Nickerson, said to live at 192 West Brookline street, though his name is not in the Boston directory, asking for an injunction to restrain him from interfering with her in any way.

She is unmarried and he is married and has a family. She says they became acquainted in 1902 and he paid attentions to her. She did not know he was married, but when she did learn that fact she left him. This was in August, 1905. Immediately she went to Chicago to live.

She asserts that her departure so incensed him that he hired detectives to ascertain her whereabouts and for upward of a year she was greatly annoyed and molested by detectives.

With a view to avoid the detectives she remained away until September, 1909, when she returned to her native home at Hingham, N. H. to live with her mother. Subsequently the defendant learned that she was there and she alleges he wrote to her demanding an interview. She did not answer the letter.

Shortly afterward she moved to Boston and obtained the position which she now holds. She went to board at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ray, 126 Berkeley street.

On June 4 the defendant called on a friend of hers and said he "was" after her and intended to see her whether she would consent or not, according to the allegations in the bill. On Sunday last he called at her home in Berkeley street and she refused to see him.

He talked with Dr. and Mrs. Ray, she alleges, and told them that he intended to interview her, regardless of whether she consented, and also made false statements to them about her.

CITY FATHERS*Are in Danger of Arrest

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—On the claim that the public records of the city of Cambridge have not been properly safeguarded, warrants have been requested for the arrest of every one of Cambridge's 33 city fathers, by Henry E. Woods of Boston, state commissioner of public records.

The complaint was filed by Commissioner Woods before Judge Almy in the Third district court of eastern Middlesex county and notice to appear before him on the question of granting the warrants was received and read last night at the meeting of the Cambridge board of aldermen.

SIX INJURED*WHEN THE CONTROLLER OF CAR BLEW UP

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8.—Six persons were more or less seriously injured and a number of others hurt when the controller of an open trolley car, running through Grand avenue late yesterday, blew up with a loud report, and a sheet of flame enveloped the side of the car. Among the twenty passengers on the car were a number of women and several of these in their panic either jumped or fell from the moving car, receiving more or less serious injuries.

MAN MAY LIVE WORK COMPLETED*He Threw Himself in Front of Train

BOSTON, June 8.—Failing to end his life by slashing his throat with a razor, John Murray, a laborer, ran through School and Washington streets late yesterday and threw himself in front of a tunnel train at the Union street station. The train struck the man squarely and tossed him safely over the third rail into one of the apartments in the cement wall, used for the protection of trackwalkers.

At the Relief hospital last night it was believed the man would live, notwithstanding his varied attempts at suicide.

Murray was employed as a barber at one of the hotels and quarreled with the proprietor, who discharged him. He went into the washroom of an adjoining hotel and cut his throat, but failed to touch a vital part. The blood was flowing freely down over his clothes as he ran through the streets to the tunnel and he was given a wide berth by the pedestrians.

WANT NEGRO TROOPS REMOVED

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—Private Nathan Hieser of Company D, 25th U. S. Infantry, was turned over to the Seattle police yesterday by the commander of Fort Lawton, after having been identified as the negro who forced his way into the home of Mrs. J. W. Redding and ill-treated her Saturday night. Hieser is now locked up in the city jail.

The city council has adopted a resolution requesting the congressional delegation from this state to seek to obtain the removal of the negro troops from Fort Lawton.

State Convention Artisans Francais Closed

The slate convention of Les Artisans Canadiens-Francais, which was opened Monday morning at C. M. A. C. hall, came to a close last night about six o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon considerable routine business was transacted. The most important matter considered was whether or not the body would pay sick benefits to members holding a $250 policy. At the present time benefits are paid only to those holding a $500 policy. After considerable discussion, pro and con, it was voted to grant the amendment.

A vote of thanks was extended to Vice President General Ledger Gravel for his generous gift of a commemorative medal to the delegates. Votes of thanks were also given to President Officer George Archambault of Holyoke and to other officers of the convention to the Lowell committee and Janitor Henri Barry of the C. M. A. C. for his courtesy to the delegates, who were given the freedom of the building and use of its privileges.

The next convention will be held in Fall River.

From Lowell the general officers are going on to Providence, where the joint convention of Rhode Island and Connecticut opens tomorrow.

A graceful courtesy on the part of Vice President Gravel was his giving of gold and bronze medals for the pupils of the French American parochial schools, in the name of the Artisans society. Both St. Joseph's and St. Louis' schools have thus been favored.

NEW BUNCO GAME*WAS WORKED ON A MANCHESTER MAN

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Victor Riel of 147 Central street is mourning the loss of $260, through which the police, to whom complaint has been made, believe to be one of the cleverest bunco games ever worked in the state.

The game is an entirely new one, and is ingenious enough to be worthy of larger spoils than were secured from the unfortunate mill worker who became its victim. Mr. Riel is a man of limited means and it is believed that the alleged swindlers struck him for no more because they set it as pretty near the limit of his resources.

The police are looking for a couple who registered at a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lajeunesse and were known as Young. The man alleged to have fallen heir to a fortune and secured the money on a promise to pay Riel, whose acquaintance he had picked up, $1000.

Riel went to New York with Mrs. Young to get the money, but the game was stopped by Francois Luc, his nephew, and Riel is now out only the expenses of the trip and the $250. The police are seeking the alleged bunco-coers.

VESSEY ELECTED

PIERRE, S. D., June 8.—Returns from yesterday's primaries are slow, but indications are that the stalwart congressional ticket was elected with an insurgent governor, Vessey.

The rest of the state ticket seems likely to land on either side, when the votes are all counted.

TO ELIMINATE SCHOOL FADS

From Chicago comes the report that Mrs. Ella Flag Young, the superintendent of schools in that city, is leading a crusade for the elimination of fads and frills from our school system. Possibly she imagines she has discovered something new or that she is the pioneer in a movement that is very essential and important.

That movement is old, but thus far it has never made much progress. There has never been a superintendent who did much more than talk about these defects. It is very easy to denounce the fads and the frills, they have been denounced thousands of times, but five thousand times have new fads and frills been brought in by enthusiastic educators who are all the time riding some hobby.

There was a time when kindergartens were exploited as the greatest scheme ever invented for developing the perceptive faculties of the child from mere infancy up without letting the child know that it was doing anything else than romp and dance and sing. But we have had the kindergartens for a good many years, and it is still a question on which educators are divided as to whether the kindergartens are a benefit or an injury to the children. Some parents believe that the effect is injurious not only on the minds but the health of the children. Nevertheless, the fad is established and it comes in very handy as a species of free public nursery which relieves the mothers from the care of their children for a part of the day.

How will the fads be eliminated? Does Mrs. Young explain? Not yet. When she gets well started in the work, if indeed she adopts any practical plan, somebody else will probably take her place and put the fads back where they were before. But what is the best method of relegating the fads to the background where they belong? Must the whole school machinery be reconstructed? We think not.

All that is desired is to have sufficient progress made in the essential branches. Let this progress be insisted upon at the expense of the fads. Then the latter will go to the wall.

But who will insist upon adequate progress in reading, writing, arithmetic, language and drawing? The superintendent of schools, who in a great many cities like our own, has to depend upon a school board of very mixed ideas in regard to such matters. That does not offer much encouragement in the line of eliminating fads; but we repeat, that if fads are to go, the best plan is to set a higher standard of efficiency in the essential branches, thus calling for more time and leaving less for the frills. This and a search for results with the elimination of incidental teaching by which time is wasted, may do much good in securing better results. The whole country will watch with much interest to see whether this crusade led by Mrs. Young will ever pass the hot air stage.

CHIEF CROKER ON INEFFICIENT FIREMEN

Apropos of the fatality to firemen in a recent fire, Chief Croker of New York city is very bitter in his denunciation of what he calls "civil service firemen." Under other conditions his utterance might be taken as a slap at a system that put a stop to the appointment of firemen by political agencies. In this case it seems Chief Croker charges the young civil service men with running away and leaving two of the daring men to perish in the flames.

It is undoubtedly difficult to judge of the essential qualities that a fireman should possess by the civil service methods. Yet the civil service passes upon the qualification of police officers who, however, are seldom subjected to the severe trials so common to firemen and especially New York firemen. Chief Croker may know what he is talking about when he says that but 40 per cent. of his firemen have the brain and the lungs necessary for effective fire fighting.

In reference to the fire at which two men were killed on Monday, however, we are of the opinion that a blaze in which chemicals, aniline dyes, paints and oils are burned, is very treacherous because of the fumes an explosion may send out into the air. No man, not even Chief Croker himself, could withstand the suffocating fumes from such elements. But Chief Croker was on the ground, and he says:—

"There was a panic in that fire and I want it known. A majority of the men fighting that fire were young civil service firemen. When they got into the thick of the smoke their lungs could not stand the strain. They got frightened, dropped the hose and ran. It wasn't much of a fire at that."

The chief further says:—

"The department is but 40 per cent. efficient. I want some men with brains, yes, but I want all of them with lungs. The cigarette-smoking, weak lunged, under-sized civil service firemen have been demoralizing the department for the past 24 years—ever since the civil service commission began to pass on applicants. The 40 per cent. efficiency puts shame into the 60 per cent. inefficiency but there are fewer old timers every year."

If firemen have weak lungs, if they are undersized, if they are addicted to the cigarette habit, they cannot be relied upon to do the best work in fighting a fire.

This remark by Chief Croker suggests drill practice that has been recognized as a neglected necessity for many years. If firemen are left without any vigorous exercise except when they are called to a fire, they must soon lapse into poor physical condition. Like other men who have but little exercise, firemen will lose strength and activity from the lack of exercise.

The words of Chief Croker, although uttered under some excitement, bear a valuable suggestion for fire chiefs and firemen as to the maintenance of general efficiency, how it can be continually kept up by the proper exercise of men now on the force and by excluding men who are not likely to reach a high standard of efficiency in every emergency.

SEEN AND HEARD

Walking up at 7 o'clock in the morning to find that, while sound asleep his fellow-workmen at the boarding house had wrapped him in a winding sheet and placed lighted tapers at his head and feet as a joke, Edward Bach, 23 years old, a plasterer, of Erie, Pa., became greatly frightened over the evil portent and exclaimed: "This means bad luck for me."

His fellow-workmen, who stood about to see the "fun" when Bach awoke, laughed uproariously. An hour later Bach was dead. He and seven other workmen, some of them of the number who had perpetrated the "joke," climbed on a scaffolding at the Forged Steel Wheel Works at 6 o'clock. The moment the men got their weight on it the structure broke, killing Bach and seriously injuring most of the seven.

An uncle of Grover Cleveland has arrived in Boston harbor as skipper of the little British schooner Nellie of Yarmouth, N. S.

When a reporter clambered over the side of the two-sticker as she was anchored on Commonwealth flats he found Capt. C. E. Cleveland in command.

THE NEWSPAPER GUY

I see a man pushing his way through the lines.

Where the work of the terrible fire bend shines.

"The chief?" I inquire; and a police-officer replies.

"Why, no; he's one of those newspaper guys!"

I see a man walk through the door of a show.

Where great throngs are blocked by the sign, "S. R. O."

"Is this man a star that no ticket he buys?"

"Star nothing! He's one of those newspaper guys!"

I see a man start on the trail of a hawk.

While he scorns the police and brings him to book.

"Sherlock Holmes?" I exclaim; and someone replies.

"Sherlock Holmes? That's one of those newspaper guys!"

And some day I'll pass by the great gates of gold.

And see a man pass through, unquestioned and bold.

"A saint?" and St. Peter will surely reply.

"He carries a pass; that's a newspaper guy!"

—Judge.

necessarily "send the man with the camera." People go on their way to give us something to work on. Why yesterday morning I received a letter from the proprietor of an up-town hotel, who informed me that one of the city's historic old trees which stood in front of his house was about to be cut down. He thought I might like a picture of the tree and took the trouble to notify me of its proposed destruction. When I got up there I found the tree surrounded by a squad of camera men, all of whom had received a courteous note from the landlord. Eventually he may profit a little from the free advertising, but at the same time he did us fellows a good turn by calling our attention to an old landmark that we would otherwise have overlooked.

"The times when customers make me feel as if I ought to be in jail and will probably land there some day are when I count out change for a blind person," said the grocer. "The blind member of a family very often does part of the marketing and sometimes he pays with a bill that calls for a handful of change. Other customers who have kindly superintended the buying get all worked up over our finances. They watch every cent that I lay down. For my reputation's sake I would never dare to hand over the change to a blind person in one 'ump.' Right out on the counter, where everybody can see, I count it piece by piece, twenty-five, fifty, a dollar. Then the blind man counts his change again by touch, finds that he has not been cheated and everybody goes home satisfied."

"A young couple recently married came into our store the other day," said the silversmith, "with a big silver pitcher and wanted us to change the initials on it so that they could give it to another couple as a wedding present. They had received three others themselves. We can sometimes do it, and I sent it up to the workroom. The word came back that it could not be done in this case because the initials on it had already been erased four times."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Lillian Nordica is to give a concert June 10 in the theatre of Irvington, N. Y., in the interests of woman's suffrage.

Besides appearing in songs, she will probably deliver a speech in favor of the suffragists.

Allice Zimmerman, the translator of Blum's "Home Life of the Ancient Greeks," has allied herself actively with the suffragist movement in London. Miss Zimmerman is a Girton college graduate and a student of educational methods in the United States, France and Germany. Since she left college she has been engaged in literary work and lecturing. Her recreations she describes as walking, pets and patience.

A special feature of the annual convocation of the faculties of arts, science and law of McGill university, Montreal, was the granting of the Ph. D. degree for the first time. One of the three candidates was a woman, Miss A. L. McLeod, who has distinguished herself in the study of chemistry and won a scholarship at Columbia university. The other successful candidates were S. Kersch, who has been a demonstrator at McGill, and J. A. Bancroft, assistant professor of geology, who wrote a thesis on the geology of western Canada and holds degrees from both Cambridge and Yale.

Mme. Yvette Guilbert, the comedienne and singer, is about to establish in Paris a school of singing. "I am convinced," said Mme. Guilbert, "that my methods will entirely revolutionize the old school of instruction, and the result will be that we shall in future generations have a far greater proportion of really good singers. My school will be more particularly for children. I am going to instruct children how to use their voices to the best advantage. In my opinion nobody is worthy of the name of singer unless he enters into the full spirit of the song. Frankly, I may tell you that I don't think that in this sense you have a single singer worthy of the name of the English music hall singer."

Orin Bates, B. S., R. G., son of Prof. Arlo Bates, who has been engaged for the winter in the excavation work in Nubia, has been asked by the Egyptian public works department at Cairo to submit plans for a special museum which it is proposed to build at Assuan to contain the Nubian material. The proposed museum is intended to exhibit not only the actual results of the excavations, but especially by means of photographs, tomb-groups and records, to illustrate the methods employed by the Nubian archaeological survey in charge of Mr. Firth, which has come to be regarded as having reached the high water mark in modern field work. As the work of the survey has dealt not only with cemeteries and burial places, but with large ruins and town sites, the exhibition should be of interest and importance. Mr. Bates studied museography at Berlin, under the late Dr. Conrad Meyer.

Miss Mary L. Brady is the principal of public school 177, at the corner of Market and Munroe streets, New York, where a new farm garden has just been opened. This school has an enrollment of 2400 children, the majority of whom have never seen the green country. Mrs. Henry Parsons and other officers of the International Planters' school league resolved that they should have a chance to plant things and watch them growing. Mrs. Russell Sage and six other friends of the league each contributed $100, and earth was bought and spread over a part of the school yard to the depth of a foot and a half. This area was divided into 55 plots, one of which was allotted to each of the classes. The teachers became so interested that several of them took a course in the training class in gardening conducted by Mrs. Parsons at the New York university.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

They say that Creotore is crazy—wait till you see De Noto conduct his matinee at Washington park next week. De Noto is a man by birth, he lives for music—in fact he eats music. It is his life, his all, and when he conducts he forgets the audience, he forgets that anyone sees him, he forgets his men, he forgets himself, he swings his baton like Napoleon swinging his sword. He does not conduct with his hands only but with his whole body and at times with his feet, he jumps and swings himself, he dances in fact he is grotesque, but he is a great musician—he says "Well, I know I am crazy every genius is crazy."

De Noto with his band will be one of the many great features at Perin's Hippodrome next week. See our advertisement in this paper for the complete program and you will wonder how such an extended and expensive bill can be given for the nominal price of ten cents.

THE BOYCOTT

ON THE AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK BEEN LIFTED

CLEVELAND, O., June 3.—The union labor boycott on American League Baseball Park, where the Cleveland team plays, was lifted last night or an agreement entered into between Hay Johnson, president of the American baseball league, and officials representing the American Federation of Labor, and the local unions of Cleveland.

The terms of the agreement are that in all American league baseball parks, no cigars shall be sold without the union label, and that all printing ordered by the league clubs shall be given to union shops. It is also provided that any stands erected or other structural work taken in hand by the clubs shall be entrusted solely to union labor.

The boycott was called at the beginning of the season because of a complaint by the local unions that non-union labor had been employed in the erection of the stands in Cleveland's new baseball park. The Cleveland team now agrees to play one game this season for the benefit of a charity to be designated by the union.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Seldom if ever, has there been a bill that can equal this week's bill in variety of acts and ability of enactment. Loring and Parquette are very clever in their act "The Awakening of Cleo." Bruce Morgan is making a big hit with his singing and dancing act. Commencing tomorrow a new bill will be shown, heading the vaudeville will be Leslie Morosco and Co., in their great comedy act "We need the money," and J. Early Hughes with a singing and talking act. Amateur night tonight, 5 and 10 cents.

ORDINATION EXERCISES

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., June 3.—The alumni association of the Berkeley Divinity school held its 34th annual gathering here last night, which will be followed Wednesday by the 56th annual ordination exercises. Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster conferred the degree of bachelor of divinity upon Rev. S. S. Drury of St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., and four others.

TO BE DEPORTED

WILD MEN OF BORNEO MUST RETURN HOME

NEW YORK, June 3.—Whether the civilization of the United States has been established on a plane where there is no longer a field for a wild man to make a living here in a professional capacity is a question the department of commerce and labor will be called on to decide.

The New York Immigration authorities answered the question in the affirmative yesterday, when they ordered the deportation of twenty "wild men of Borneo" brought here for exhibition at a summer show.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

NEW YORK, June 3.—The American Polo association, through its secretary, W. A. Hazard, sent a cable message to the Birmingham Polo club of London, yesterday, accepting the latter's challenge for the international matches will be played at Meadowbrook, L. I.

LOSS IS $6000

Main Building of Military Academy Destroyed by Fire

NORWALK, Conn., June 8.—The greater portion of the main building of the Overlook-Selleck military academy was destroyed by fire early today, entailing a loss of approximately $6000 and compelling the 75 students of the institution to seek shelter for the remainder of the night at Norwalk hotel. The fire started in the tower in the center of the main building, a wooden structure 200 feet long by 50 feet wide and spread to the rear and sides. The students were aroused from their beds and many of them made their escape and only in their night clothing. Several of the students were compelled to jump from the windows on the second story but all escaped injury. The fire ate rapidly into the center of the old wooden structure and it was not until the firemen had fought for nearly three hours that it was gotten under control. The tower fell in, which aided the firemen in reaching the rear and working from both sides.

The building was erected some 25 years ago by Rev. Charles M. Selleck, who died two years ago. It is now owned by the James estate and is fully insured. A large number of the students are foreigners. The cause of the fire is not known.

PLEADED GUILTY

Woman Was Charged With Smuggling

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mrs. Charles Allen of Kenosha, Wis., whose husband is the senior member of the firm of C. N. Allen Sons Co. and a director in the Central Leather Co., appeared today before Justice Hall in the United States circuit court and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging her with having smuggled into the country when she arrived here last Friday on the Lusitania, jewelry and wearing apparel worth about $5000.

Mrs. Allen was fined $100.

MISS DREXEL

BECOMES BRIDE OF THE VISCOUNT MAIDSTONE

LONDON, June 8.—The marriage of the Viscount Maidstone, older son of the Earl of Winchester and Nottingham, and Miss Marguerite Armstrong Drexel, daughter of Anthony Drexel, the first of the three Anglo-American weddings to take place in London this month, was celebrated this afternoon at St. Margaret's, Westminster. There was a large attendance both at the church and at the reception held afterwards at Mr. Drexel's residence in Grosvenor square. The service was fully choral, the bishop of London and canon Henson of St. Margaret's officiating. The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away. There were ten bridesmaids as follows: Lady Gladys Finch-Hatton, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Hilda Chichester and Miss Essex Vere Gunning, cousins of the bridegroom; Miss Rhoda Astley, daughter of Dowager Lady Hastings; Lady Violet Manners, Miss Sibyl Fellows, daughter of Lord Draycott; Miss Constance Combs, daughter of Lady Combs; Miss Edith Wrayne of Philadelphia, and two American brides-elect, Miss Mildred Carter, who is to be married to Lord Acheson on June 21, and Miss Helen Post, to be married three days later to Montague Elliot. Charles Mills, son of Lord Hillingdon, was the best man.

The two received many presents. The bride's father gave her a diamond tiara as well as an automobile, in which Lord and Lady Maidstone are to tour the continent on their honeymoon. Mrs. Drexel's gift to her daughter was a rope of pearls.

BAN JOHNSON

HAS PLAN TO AID EX-BALL PLAYERS

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—President Frank Navin of the Detroit Americans says that when Ban Johnson, president of the American league, was here last week he proposed a plan for aiding "down and out" ball players which was approved by the American league president and steps have been taken to put it into operation. Navin's proposal, he says, was inspired by the present difficulties of African C. Anson of Chicago. In brief, it is as follows:

That once each year each club in the American and National leagues designate some game in its schedule, the gross receipts of which are to be turned into a fund for the aid of ex-ball players and other followers of the game who were in straitened circumstances, the game to be advertised as a benefit, thus increasing the receipts. President Johnson thought $50,000 a year could be raised by this means.

SKULL LAID OPEN

BOY USED AN AXE ON BABY'S HEAD

JERSEY CITY, June 8.—Edw. Nolan, three years and two weeks old, had his skull laid open to the extent of over two inches with an axe wielded by four-year-old Freddie Joyce yesterday. The pair had a few words about a boy. He was taken to St. Francis hospital. The axe had missed cleaving through the skull into the boy's brain by what may be described as a hair-breadth, say the doctors.

Several stitches were put in the wound and a plentiful top dressing of soothing and antiseptic ointment applied. Last night the boy was playing around his home as if he was in the best of health, but his assailant was not allowed out of doors. Mrs. Nolan declined to make any complaint. Master Nolan will be a frequent visitor at St. Francis hospital for two or three weeks to come.

DECLARED THAT SHE IS A BANKRUPT

BOSTON, June 7.—August M. Clark, a woman broker in this city, with an office in the Smith building, 15 Court square, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court, in which she gives her liabilities at $11,342.58, and her assets at $1,000. She claims, in 50,000 shares of the United States Molybdenum company, of which Raymond Hayes is trustee. The value of the shares, it is stated, is not known.

There are but five creditors, George L. Hutches of Boston being the largest one, with a claim for $1,600, which is money loaned the petitioner.

GEN. RIVAS' THREAT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Consul Moffat at Bluefields has confirmed the press report to the effect that Gen. Rivas, commanding the Madriz forces at the bluff, has threatened to prohibit American-owned vessels of Nicaraguan register but carrying the United States flag from passing the bluff to and from Bluefields if the vessels at any time have been in the service of the revolutionary party. Commander Hines of the Duquesne informed General Rivas that he would not permit any interference with the movements of American-owned vessels and that if they were fired on he would consider it sufficient grounds for attacking the bluff. The Prairie, with two companies of marines, has left Colon for Bluefields.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

HARTFORD, Ct., June 8.—There remained but two players to complete the first round of the singles, and six of the eight second round matches had been played, when the contestants in the annual tennis tournament for the championship took the courts today for the second day's matches. Doubles play, the drawings for which were made last evening, will begin this afternoon.

Held Annual Meeting and Re-elected Board of Officers

Reports of Officers and Committees, Reviewing the Work of the Year—Navigation of the Merrimack Discussed by Jas. O'Sullivan

The Board of Trade held its first annual meeting under the new by-laws yesterday afternoon. The board of officers was re-elected as follows: Harvey B. Greene, president; James O'Sullivan, first vice president; Albert L. Paul, second vice president; John A. Hunnewell, third vice president; Edward B. Carney, treasurer; William F. Hills, auditor; William Cogger, clerk; to secure a city ordinance preventing the erection of buildings which are a menace to health because of overcrowding of land. He declared that the proposed state law proposed by the committee on streets of the board of trade, by the terms of which land development should not be undertaken without proper reference to the location, direction and width of streets, the city authorities having a supervision over the plans for new streets, was a matter of vital importance and should be backed by the members of the board.

HARVEY B. GREENE

JOHN H. MURPHY

New Charter Needed
President Greene also declared that the board of trade should take up again this year the plans for a new city charter, agreeing upon a sufficiently comprehensive system to secure a single board of government, a short ballot and the elimination of party designations. This would save the city more money, he said, than any other one effort the board could undertake.

He suggested the plan tried in other cities, of interesting the young men of the city, especially sons of the members of the board of trade, in local industries and educational institutions. He declared that young men could be drawn into the mechanical lines of trade and the textile industries by being made familiar with the opportunities offered at the Textile school and by a careful examination of the manufacturing methods of the mills here. The president also called attention to the new through train from Portland to New York, via Lowell, which would be a great convenience to Lowell business men and travelers. This was a symptom of further advantages to come, he expected, and he favored the merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad with the Boston and Maine as tending to bring about better communication between Lowell and places in the south and west.

Urges Civic Enthusiasm

In concluding his recommendations, President Greene declared that no good ever came of talking down a city and that Lowell men should speak well of Lowell, should work for the good of all Lowell, and trade in Lowell to the largest extent possible.

The meeting was well attended. Preceding the annual meeting, the directors met and completed their business for the year. It was voted to place the matter of an outing in the hands of the executive committee with full powers, the idea being to make the outing well worth while as well as inexpensive. It is expected that representatives of all the boards of trade in the Merrimack valley will be present and a decided begin for a navigable river can be started.

Sec. Murphy's Report

Secretary John H. Murphy read his annual report which was in part, as follows:

In preparing this report your secretary has done his best to give you an examination of the records of your meetings, and it must be evident that a report so prepared will lack the life that a report prepared from a personal knowledge of the work would contain.

The adoption of the new by-laws last January provides that the annual meeting will be held the first Tuesday in June. Although the present officers of your board have had but four and one-half months to develop their ideas, yet the work which they have accomplished is indeed commendable.

Great praise is due your officers whose work is an endorsement of the policy of being alive to any situation. Results apparent to us all speak for themselves. Great credit should be given the members of the executive committee, who have worked unceasingly and have given freely of their valuable time to make a success of the organization.

Your standing committees—each member working in harmony with its chairman toward the single goal of success—are in no small measure responsible for the high mark of efficiency reached by this year's development.

Executive Committee

The creation of an executive committee which meets once a week, has proved itself a step of great wisdom. It is obvious that the interest shown by the members of this committee, together with the attention paid by your worthy reading secretary to the publicity and of the work is responsible for the great strides made in enlisting the interest of the general public in your honored body. This committee being in touch with the secretary, and the work at all times, has been prolific of great results. The success of this venture will be better appreciated in time. The men selected to act on this committee should be measured only by their ability, their interest in the working of the organization and their willingness to give their time to this cause.

Membership

The membership committee, which this year consisted of 20 members, did very successful work. The work was under the guidance of Robert E. Maeden, chairman of the committee, and the other members were: Al Marks, Louis Alexander, Frank Board, Otto B. Clay, William Cogger, George H. Daniels, Daniel F. Carroll, Bart. Seannell, Jr., Arthur E. Babcock, W. H. Badger, H. Stanley Chrysler, E. B. Carney, Carl M. Phil, Royal K. Dexter, George W. Trull, J. A. Hunnewell, R. S. Donoghue and Walter Graybe and the membership has grown in four months from 127 to close to 700.

A continuance of the good work accomplished by this committee should be encouraged and the campaign for new members renewed. A membership contest should be inaugurated, with a reward to the team making the best showing; and the enthusiasm which will develop will strengthen our numbers and influence.

The gain in financial strength incident to the gain of 550 members has placed your board in a position to conduct its work in a progressive and up-to-date manner.

The Annual Banquet

The great event of the past four months was the 23d annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade, March 15, at Lincoln hall, with 350 members of this board attending. All present voted the affair the banner event of the organization. A tempting menu was prepared by the D. L. Page Co. Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. C. E. Fisher. A feature of the banquet was the singing of the entire gathering, led by Mr. John A. Hunnewell. Hubbard's orchestra furnished the music.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the meeting and all combined to make the affair long to be remembered. The speaking of the evening was of high order, and included President Harvey B. Greene, who outlined the policy of the Lowell board in saying that the work was for a bigger, better and more beautiful Lowell.

Mayor John F. Mehan delivered an eloquent address, and John S. Schuchman, a fuel and combustion expert, told of the saving that was possible here in New England under certain conditions. His address was very interesting and instructive.

Rev. Dr. B. J. Keeler pleaded for the city beautiful and was well received.

Col. Sidney O. Bigney of Attleboro delivered a discourse on the Panama B. Greene, who outlined the policy of the Lowell board in saying that the work was for a bigger, better and more beautiful Lowell.

Public Lectures

April 7, 1910, will long be remembered by members of the Lowell board of trade who attended the illustrated lecture held in Harrington hall. The speaker of the evening was Arthur A. Shurtless of Boston, an expert in city planning, who described conditions of streets and city planning in a very intelligent manner and displayed some very fine views.

A course of lectures on topics concerning board of trade work should be inaugurated as great results are obtained by their use.

The report then reviewed what had been done for better transportation.

NOW'S THE TIME FOR EXPERIMENTING.

Every Baseball Manager Should Know
What His Youngsters Can Do.

In Hughie Jennings' opinion the real baseball race never starts to be run until after each team has entertained each one of its seven rivals and also gone visiting over the entire circuit; hence this is the time to experiment, quoth he.

"Sure as sin this is the time of the season to try out your youngsters, particularly pitchers. Unknown material is of no use to any manager," says popular Hughie.

"I always start early to find out just what's what in my new flock. So that's the reason I am using Pernoll and Browning so regularly. And, say, they're two beauts. Pernoll has already shown the fans the stuff he's got and the stuff he's made of.

"Browning is little; but, oh, me, oh, my! He's another Clark Griffith. In the days when the Cincinnati manager was pitching he took the whole bakery for having you guessing. He never had much of an arm. But what a head! Griff was all the time crossing you. Whatever you were looking for you didn't get. Well, Browning is the same kind of a workman.

"When Mr. Hitter is expecting the fast one he gets the slow, and when he thinks the curve is coming along up bobs the straight one. The kid hasn't a world of speed, but he's got enough, especially considering his wisdom. I never did go very far on young flingers, but I think it fair to average one a year on your team. Now, I dug up Summers, didn't I? And I came back with Willett. I don't know exactly what my best bet is going to be this season. But watch and see if I don't dig up a juvenile who will not only stick, but who will deliver the goods with it."

He knows all about Mullin, Donovan, Willett, Summers, Works and Kilian. It's Pernoll, Browning, Stroud and that kind that are worrying him. So as matters are going he will know everything about them long before the pinch comes.

All of which is further proof that Happy Hugh is a wise baseball soul. He wants his machine to be in such shape that it will be invincible from July 4 on. If something he doesn't know anything about is to happen he wants it to happen quickly, so that he won't be up against it at the eleventh hour.

Joe Tinker Once a Pitcher.

Joe Tinker, the Chicago National star shortstop, was once a pitcher. Few fans today know that Joe once was sold for about $25. Just think of the leagues that would scramble over themselves to get Tinker for that sum today or many times that amount. Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers prides himself on his ability to pitch, and he doubtless would make a fine one, for Ty is a natural player and could fit in anywhere. The same is true of Lajoie of the Naps. It would not surprise the world if Lajoie today could win a good percentage of games in the box.

CRACK FIRST SACKERS IN DEMAND IN THE TWO MAJOR LEAGUES

By TOMMY CLARK.

CRACK first basemen are in demand by the two big leagues this season. In fact, there are several major league club owners who would give all kinds of money to land star first basemen. Among them are New York, Pittsburgh and Boston in the National and Chicago, St. Louis and Washington in the American.

There was a time when an old catcher with his throwing arm gone could play first base and get away with the job, but not so now. It takes a real ball player who has everything that every other member of the club has, and then some, to make good in the big leagues as a first sacker. The old style first baseman, slow on his feet, unable to throw to third on anything like a line and a miserable fielder of bunts and fast grounders, couldn't hold a job in baseball today.

In the National league New York has only a fair one in Merkle, who has succeeded Fred Tenney. He may develop into a crack with more experience, but at present he gives very little evidence of showing that he classes with the masters of the job. Manager McGraw made many efforts to land Konetchy of St. Louis, but failed, for Manager

Bresnahan said McGraw might as well try to buy the rock of Gibraltar as to try to get hold of his star first sacker.

Brooklyn has a good one in Daubert, who succeeded Tim Jordan. Daub, old boss, is not a chicken, having first based for many years, but he is delivering the goods.

The Boston Nationals have a fairly good one in Sharpe. The erudite and foxy leader Frank Chance of Chicago isn't shy on first basemen, though. He is all there himself, of course.

Cincinnati is all right. Hoblitzel is the real walloping kid and can play the base besides. Philadelphia is fairly well off with Bransfield.

The champion Pirates seem to have discovered a good one in Flynn. The St. Louis Nationals are all to the good, for Eddie Konetchy is a star both on the bag and at whanging the leather on the heavy pedal.

The New York Americans are all right, for Hal Chase is right in the zenith of his playing powers.
Boston's Red Sox are well off with

Jake Stahl. The big boy can cover the bag superbly and seems to be getting better all the time as a slugger. Connie Mack still relies on Harry Davis, a most artistic and capable player, but one who is beginning to grow old.

McAleer, at Washington, is perplexed. Bob Unglaub is a pretty good first baseman, but is also useful in other places.

Comiskey's two great first basemen, Isbell and Donohue, are both gone now, and he is trying out Gandil with only problematical success. Cleveland has a crack in George Stovall.

The champion Detroit Tigers are worried, inasmuch as Tom Jones is slowing up and getting a little listless. Jennings would be glad to hear from a lively kid with first base ability.

St. Louis is not satisfied with Abstein, the former Pittsburgher. O'Connor is trying hard to make a first baseman out of Dode Criss, his star pinch hitter and pitcher.

Great chances for young first basemen these days if there were only a few such to be found!

SAM LANGFORD SAYS HIS HEAD IS MADE OF IRON.

Sam Langford, colored heavyweight of Boston, happened to witness three white boys put out by having their heads strike the floor in a New York boxing club recently. One seemed to be in pretty bad shape for an hour or so, but came around later. In talking of the affair shortly after Langford said: "It certainly am 'sprain' to me how all these heah white boys hurt themselves by fallin' on their heads. I can't account for it no how. Bless my soul, but their heads mus' be brittle. Now, if I had my way 'bout it and had to fall, though none of these heah boys seem to be pushin' me down very hard, I would jes' say, 'Lemme fall on my head.' If I was knocked so stiff I could see a flock of comets and was suah I was goin' to fall on my head I would feel puffedly safe. And the more these boys slam me on the head the better I like it. Seems puffedly ridicellus for these boys to be hurtin' their heads all the time."

HARNESS RACING OUTLOOK.

Readville, Hartford and New York in Line With Rich Cards.

The outlook for the harness horse racing world, especially in the east, this season grows brighter every day, and the way things are shaping themselves brings hope that the sport will soon be back on the footing of half a dozen years ago, when the east was the favorite racing ground of the country.

Readville (Boston), Hartford, Conn., and New York recently closed their cards, and there is not the slightest doubt but that all of the big time stables will ship east. Syracuse, N. Y., has a splendid track, and the management at Buffalo was assured of a long and profitable future before the closing date.

Andy Welch has clung to his original program at Readville—the $15,000 American Derby, $10,000 Massachusetts stake for 2:14 trotters, $3,000 Bunker Hill for 2:05 pacers and $2,500 Norfolk for 2:14 pacers. The Derby is for horses that have at least started in one race, with $10,000 going to the trotters and $5,000 for pacers. The distance for the slowest horses will be a mile and an eighth. This will not make it necessary for trainers to work their horses out of the ordinary, as they were obliged to do last year.

The Massachusetts will be a two in three event, so that horses starting in the Derby can have a second engagement for that week if desired. The amateur race which has made such a hit will be on the Readville program, but as a late closing event.

The Connecticut fair, through its manager, L. H. Butterfield, announces the twenty-fifth renewal of the $10,000 Charter Oak purse for 2:05 trotters, which is to be the headliner of Hartford's grand circuit meeting. That the Hartford folks are not worrying any about the big stables coming east is shown by the fact that, in addition to the Charter Oak, they have opened a $2,500 free for all trot, a $2,500 2:14 pace and a $2,600 2:16 trot. The latter is along the line of the Tavorin stake at Cleveland, with amateurs to drive.

The Charter Oak will be a three heat affair, with a novel entrance condition, horses named May 31 getting in for 1 per cent, those named June 30 paying 2 per cent, July 30 3 per cent and those waiting until Aug. 23 4 per cent. This makes it possible for horses to enter and start for 2 per cent, a very low entrance.

The New York program will consist of five $2,500 guaranteed stakes—the Bonner Memorial, 2:25 class, trotting; the Fleetwood, 2:13 class, trotting; the Speedway, 2:18 class, trotting; the Union, 2:13 class, racing, and the Fashion, 2:10 class, racing.

All will be under the short system of best two in three rules of the National Trotting association. Some exceptions, however, are made in the conditions and system of racing for the Speedway, which is exclusively for amateur drivers who are members of the League of Amateur Driving Clubs. The contests are to be wagon, drivers to carry not less than 175 pounds.

ARE BONUSES GOOD FOR NATIONAL GAME?

Star Pitchers Run Great Risks In Striving For Extra Pay.

Are bonuses to pitchers for winning a certain number of games a good thing for baseball? This question is as much in mind this summer as ever. Several big league club owners have offered their star twirlers sums of money providing they win thirty or more games.

When George Mullin had so much difficulty in pulling down his prize for winning twenty-five games last season the Detroit management gave it out that no more bonuses would be offered, as it appeared to handicap this clever twirler to a great extent as he neared his goal.

At the first glance the offer appears generous enough. When we think of the great number of games in a league schedule it seems easy enough for a pitcher to win the required number, but it isn't.

Chase back through the records of the National league and see how many pitchers have won thirty games. Joe McGinnity won just thirty for Brooklyn in 1900. Not until 1903 did another pitcher reach the mark. That year Joe copped thirty-one victories, and Christy Mathewson reached the mystic number. The following year the great "Iron Man" won thirty-five to Christy's thirty-three games.

In 1905 Mathewson was the only twirler to pass the mark, winning thirty-one battles. The next year brought not a single thirty victory pitcher, but in 1908 Christy came to the fore again with thirty-seven victories. Last year Mordecai Brown led all with twenty-seven victories.

The story of the American league twirlers is similar. Cy Young marched in victorious thirty-one times in 1901, representing the Boston club. The next season he added one to his string, making it thirty-two victories. He led all his league's star performers in 1903, but won only twenty-eight games.

Jack Chesbro was the shining light of 1904, his greatest year in baseball. He brought home the bacon forty-one times for the Highlanders, establishing a record for wins in a single season under modern conditions. Bill Bernhard of the Naps came within one game of landing inside the Murphy limit.

Until Ed Walsh's great year in 1903, when he won forty games and lost but fifteen, the American league didn't fifteen, the American league had but one pitcher with forty victories to the Tigers won twenty-nine games and led all his competitors.

SPORTING CHIPS.

The new stadium in Kansas City, Mo., is to be used for various athletic meetings.

The Canadian Whippet Racing club of Toronto is to hold contests all during the summer months.

The National Dog Breeders' association will hold its first show in September during the state fair at Sacramento, Cal. This is the entering wedge of the new organization, which is already in a flourishing condition.

In the final soccer matches for the cup emblematic of the English championship, which have been played at the Crystal Palace since 1895, the total attendance has been 1,194,168 and the net receipts $248,260.

Jimmy Cosgrove, the Argonaut Rowing club sculler of Toronto, recently arrived in England, where he will try to life the Diamond sculls at Henley on July 5. He has a rabbit's foot with him, the gift of an admirer.

McAleer Will Leave Umps Alone.

Manager Jimmy McAleer of Washington has reformed.
"I have warned my men," he says, "to cease taking exception to decisions, no matter how rank. And I am going to do the same myself. There is nothing in fighting an umpire but defeat."

Boston Doves Wallop Right Handers.

Southpaw pitchers were very effective against Boston last year. This year Manager Lake has manned the main positions with right hand hitters. Managers do not dare use left hand twirlers against the Doves.

TY COBB'S GREAT SLIDE EXPLAINED

Spiking the Fault of the Fielder In
Awkward Attempt to Touch Him

EVER seen Ty Cobb, the great batter and right fielder of the Detroit Americans, slide for a base? No? Well, next time you get the opportunity go see him. This fellow has the prettiest slide of any ball tosser in the game. Cobb perhaps spiked more players last season than any other three men in his league. Because of his well known ability, because of the high position they are not all excited over the penant race, who would swear that Cobb tried to put different players out of the running by the use of his steel spurs. Cobb has a slide peculiarly his own. Unlike most others, Cobb doesn't slow down before starting to slide, but hits the turf at almost his full speed. One of his legs is thrown in the direction of the bag, the other usually high in the air, while his body is thrown in the opposite direction from the base.

of touching the runner to show up Cobb's slide, just as Cobb's slide shows up basemen who rather fear touching him in order to avoid possible injury. It is always a treat to watch Cobb try to steal third with Bobby Wallace of the St. Louis Browns playing the bag or see him attempt to pilfer second with Wallace as shortstop taking the throw from the catcher.

There are any number of American league infielders who are very clever

VERSATILE BALL PLAYER.

Manager Sample Good In Box, Behind Bat and at First.

When it comes to versatility Guy Sample, manager of the East Liverpool team in the D. and P. league, has almost all the other fellows lost in the woods. Guy is a first class pitcher—see the baseball guides for particulars—is a good catcher and has few superiors in the minor leagues at first base.

Sample, who was in the Cotton States league two years ago, cast his fortunes with Zanesville in the Central last summer and, with the aid of Young Walker, now with the Washington Americans, succeeded in putting the city on the map. Almost all season he worked in the box and fooled nearly every team in Doc Carson's circuit.

One day in midyear Catcher "Ducky" Holmes, formerly of the St. Louis Nationals, was injured. Sample was in the box. He tossed the ball to another sacker and donned the wind paid. He stayed behind the bat for a week too. Later when the first baseman was hurt Guy gave a sample of his work on the initial sack, and it certainly was excellent.

This year he has elected to do the catching exclusively at East Liverpool, as he feels he can catch the twirlers to better advantage.

Milan Playing Great Ball.

Clyde Milan, Washington's star outfielder, is unquestionably playing the best ball of his career this season. Not only is he hitting well and getting on the bases one way or another more than any other player in the league, but his fielding is nothing short of sensational.

PITCHER WALTER JOHN- SON IN CLASS BY HIM- SELF, SAYS JENNINGS.

Hughie Jennings believes that Walter Johnson, the star young twirler of the Washington Americans, has more natural ability than any other pitcher in the game today. "What other pitcher can feel some of the best batsmen into striking out with three fast balls that cut the center of the plate?" I know of none. Johnson does this repeatedly, and it is convincing proof to me that he has more than any of the other twirlers in the game today. It has been his misfortune to be with a team that did not score many runs behind him or I am satisfied he would lead the pitchers. I have seen a lot of pitchers in my time, but I must take off my hat to Johnson when it comes to having the stuff, for he is in a class by himself."

BASEBALL CHIRPS.

Tommy Leach, Hans Wagner and Fred Clarke have been playing together for thirteen years.

Outfielders Ellis and Oakes are attracting national attention by their brilliant work for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hugh Jennings is not sure that rooting helps a ball team in the long run. The players become accustomed to the rooting on the home grounds and miss it on the road.

Outfielder Rescher of the Cincinnati is making a strong bid for the automobile or aeroplane or whatever it is somebody is giving or might give for the best base runner.

Among other things Hans Wagner has as souvenirs the first uniform he ever wore on a ball field. The uniform was the property of John S. Roby, Jr., a leading lawyer of Pittsburgh, who recently presented it to Wagner.

TY COBB MAKING ONE OF HIS SENSATIONAL SLIDES.

occupied by the Detroit club in the race, because of the fact that in several cases the men spiked by Cobb were members of teams regarded as Detroit's most dangerous rivals. It is openly stated that Cobb had intentionally spiked these men in order to weaken the Tigers' strongest opponents. But this is not so.

While it may often look from the stand as if Cobb is deliberative in his attempts to injure, yet there are few players, if really asked for an honest opinion during the off season, when man. In other words, when Cobb goes into a base feet first about the only thing the runner has to touch is the spikes on one of his shoes. Thus the feat of touching Cobb is a rather difficult as well as dangerous task. Then, again, there are many basemen who don't fancy touching Cobb any too well, and quite often in trying to safely position themselves they get in the very spot that makes the play dangerous.

Cobb's fadeaway slide is the work of an artist. It takes an artist in the art at touching a base runner, but no one has anything on Bobby Wallace. He is an adept at handling a thrown ball with one hand, and unless the catcher happens to make a throw that is right on the runner there isn't a chance for Wallace to be spiked. Cobb goes into Wallace with terrific speed. The latter takes the throw in his gloved hand, hooks the ball under Cobb's foot and starts him off in some direction other than the bag. Cobb has often missed the bag at least a foot after being touched out by Wallace.

It doesn't look to me like a square fight anyhow. This thing of not getting down to training looks queer. It may be all right for Johnson, for he can come around all right in six weeks, but Jeff won't round to in six years. To a man up a tree it seems as if Jeff needed some money and to get it he had to make a feat at getting down to business. Whether he wins or loses, this fight is worth $200,000 to him, and that will put him on "Easy street" again. I don't think it is possible—I don't have Jeff think it is possible—for him to win against Johnson. If the stories about Jeff and Johnson in training were not true don't you suppose they would soon put a stop to them, for they are certainly hurting the fight from a financial standpoint? It must be true or the newspapers wouldn't say so."

DUNKHORST ON BIG MILL.

"Human Freight Car" Says Jeff Will Lose Fight With Johnson.

Unless Ed Dunkhorst, once affectionately referred to by the lovers of Juggins as "the human freight car," is very much mistaken Jim Jeffries hasn't the ghost of a show to beat Jack Johnson in their battle in Princeton on Independence day. Dunkhorst, who now weighs 440 pounds, doesn't look much like the fighting man of ten years ago who at 320 pounds stood Jeff off for six rounds and was the hero of more than sixty battles in the squared arena. It is just about ten years since Dunkhorst, after training Jeff for his battle with Corbett, met lucky Job

Fitzsimmons and for the first time in his life was put out by a punch. It took Fitz just two rounds to put the "human freight car" on a sliding, and when he went to sleep in the ring for the first time in his life he arose with a steadfast determination not to fight again. He then went upon the stage and made a hit as an interpreter of juvenile characters and is now traveling with his own company in a sketch called "Mamma's Cry Baby." Out of sixty-eight battles Dunkhorst received the decision in sixty-three of them, had one decision given against him, fought three draws and got his first and only knockout punch from Bob Fitzsimmons. In an interview he said:

"I saw both Jeff and Johnson recently, and unless I miss my guess Jeff hasn't a chance against the black man."

ARTHUR KOHLER BREAKING WORLD'S SHOT PUT RECORD.

Recently in the interscholastic meet in Ann Arbor Arthur Kohler of Lansing, Mich., put the twelve pound shot 61 feet 6 1/2 inches, a new world's record.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

The Indians Believe That She is a Witch

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 8.—Driven by fear of death at the hands of her tribe, whose members believe her to be a witch, Mamie Holmes, 16 years old, an Indian girl, has walked for more than 100 miles from the Coachella reservation to Santa Manuel reservation, near Highland. The girl was taken, in charge by Indian Agent Royce, who says that he learned several days ago of preparations to torture and kill her. She will be sent to the government school at Phoenix.

WANTS PARDON

DOVER, ME., PEOPLE OPPOSE BOOKER'S PETITION

DOVER, Me., June 8.—Local people will oppose the efforts of Charles W. Booker, who is seeking to obtain a pardon from the state prison at Thomaston, where he is serving a sentence of five years for breaking, entering and larceny at North Dexter. It is expected that County Attorney Burgess of Bangorville, who prosecuted the case against Booker, will appear before the governor and council in opposition to the pardon.

Booker was arrested for breaking into the general store of George Ronco at North Dexter, and although the crime was committed in Penobscot county, the case was prosecuted in this county, the store being located on the line between the two counties and under a special statute it came into Penobscot. When being taken to Dover for trial, Booker attempted to escape.

CHARGES AGAINST PATENT MEDICINES

Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation in fact, and are manifestly unfair and unjust.

There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of American homes which have saved hundreds of dollars to families who could not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

LAWYER HAS NEW EVIDENCE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8.—That the fund of approximately $3000 raised to kill the fish bill in the legislature went to "sweeten" the general legislative "jackpot," is the belief of State's Attorney Burke who today returned from his third trip to Beardstown, laden with the new evidence.

The prosecutor says he is on the trail of at least one man who he believes handled the fish bill fund after it had been paid to Frank Traut of Beardstown in the St. Nicholas hotel.

MAN ARRESTED

WOMAN SAYS HE THREW HER INTO RIVER

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Charged with throwing a girl into the Piscataquog river, John H. Earnshaw, 25 years old, was placed under arrest yesterday. The details of the affair, as given out by the police, are that two young women, Annie M. Vallancourt, aged 24, and Ida Blanchet, somewhat younger, met two men at the Union station and walked over Granite bridge to Second and Cleveland streets, near the second street bridge and proceeded to an island in the river where a bottle of whiskey was passed around. While on the island it is alleged that Earnshaw pushed the Vallancourt woman into the river.

The woman's cry for help attracted the attention of several persons, Mrs. James Rogers, James Booth, Ralph Prikos and Mattie Barrell, who ran to the river, and by their combined efforts succeeded in rescuing the girl. The woman charged Earnshaw with having thrown her into the river, and after several hours of search he was found and arrested. He acknowledged being with her, but said that they were all drinking, and that she fell into the water, and was neither pushed nor thrown in.

TO ABOLISH OFFICE

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—The abolishment of the office of coroner was urged by Dr. Goodwin, editor of the Missouri State Medical Association Journal, before the American Medical association in its session here today.

He presented a resolution asking the association through its house of delegates to favor the passage of state laws giving the medical functions of the coroner's office into the hands of a medical examiner and the judicial functions into the hands of the prosecuting attorney.

The resignation of Dr. George T. Simmons as secretary of the house of delegates was accepted.

SOCIETY LEADER

Arrested on Charge of Picketing

BOSTON, June 8.—Mrs. Glendower Evans, a well known society leader, as well as an ardent suffragist and socialist, was arrested for picketing today in connection with a labor controversy in South Boston.

Miss Mabel Gillespie, secretary of the woman's trade union league, was also taken into custody and both were brought to the police station for violating a city ordinance.

After being warned by the officer in charge they were allowed to go on their own recognizance.

This is the second time in two months that Mrs. Evans has figured prominently in a strike in Boston.

RAPS INSURGENTS

CHANCELLOR DAY HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT THEM

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 8.—Chancellor James R. Day, in his report yesterday to the trustees of Syracuse university, arraigned the insurgent republicans in congress and the administration of the Carnegie foundation fund. He said, in part:

"We believe that but for the insane assaults upon the commerce of the country, upon railways and manufacturers, from which there are small signs of immediate relief, as the politicians do not seem to have discovered any other issue of equal demagogic effect, we would be able to report a couple of million more of increase in our endowments."

"The present aspects of the country are not flattering. No one can tell when insurgent cranks will be able to inject their wild-eyed socialistic theories into the business of the country by congressional act. No one can really tell what property is until after the supreme court's decision in the coming autumn."

The chancellor reviewed his published letters on the Carnegie foundation fund and continued:

"There is positive evidence, as I have said, that this erratic and inconsistent administration of the Carnegie foundation does not represent the intention or spirit of Mr. Carnegie."

ATTACK ON HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., June 8.—Halifax was the object of the attack of a "hostile force" today when a combined land and naval assault on the defenses was begun. The manoeuvres will continue three days and form a part of the official inspection of the local garrison by Sir John French, inspector of Halifax forces. On Saturday morning Sir John will leave here for St. John, N. B., to inspect the troops.

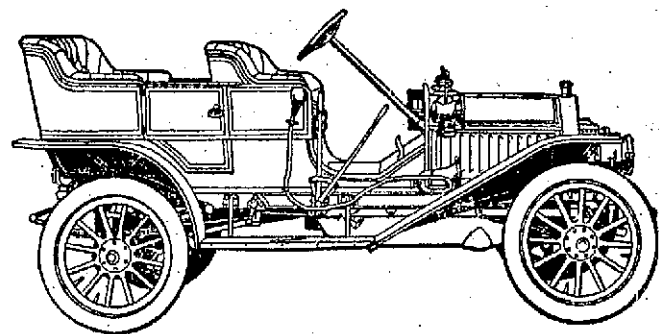

THURSDAY BARGAIN DAY IS A HOUSEHOLD EXPRESSION. THE LOWELL STORES REALIZE IT AND THEY ADVERTISE SPECIAL BARGAINS FOR THURSDAY. READ THEIR ANNOUNCEMENTS IN TODAY'S SUN.

THE IOWA PRIMARIES

DES MOINES, Ia., June 8.—While returns from yesterday's primaries are still far from complete the nomination of Carroll, republican, and Porter, democrat, for governor, seems certain. Eight progressives and three standpaters were nominated for congress.

CHIEF CROKER FOR GOVERNOR

Gave Young Firemen a There Are Five Candidates in Wisconsin

NEW YORK, June 8.—Fire Chief Croker's denunciation of the civil service method of recruiting men for his department, made following Monday's Washington street fire, which resulted in the death of two men and the injury of more than a score of others, seems to find confirmation in the records of the force for the last half dozen years.

At the various stations of the department yesterday the Chief's bitter words were being discussed, and many were the incidents recalled to hear him out in his scathing bits of criticism. For instance, at engine company 4, which Chief Croker said Monday was the best all round crew of fire fighters in the department, they were pointing out Big John Sullivan of truck 1, whose name still stands out conspicuously in the roster of old crooked officers, who kept the work of the department up to such a high grade of efficiency in the days before civil service rules became so much the enforced vogue.

A group of six younger members of the department—civil service recruits all—were panting and blowing and tugging away at a big ladder in the endeavor to hoist it against a wall nearby while "Big John" points of physical merit were under discussion.

"Here's where I'll do a little visualization along the lines of my remarks of Monday, which were good but unknown persons have taken so much to heart," said Chief Croker, who happened to be among the group in which the discussion was under way.

Ordering the youngsters to assist from their ladders, the chief called out: "John, take that ladder down and hoist it again. We want to see how quickly you can accomplish the task." The old veteran jumped to his task, as his younger companions backed away quickly lowering the ladder and then, with all the seeming ease and nonchalance of a village volunteer on a May day exhibition, hoisted it back into place.

"That's the kind of a man to call upon when a woman with a baby in her arms is screaming for help from the fourth story window ledge," said Chief Croker proudly.

Then, just to show that he asked no more of his men than he was capable of and was willing to himself, Chief Croker braced himself in position and hoisted the heavy ladder as Big John had done before him.

CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE

SAFETY, June 8.—Six Hester, clubmaker for the Mission Athletic club, has obtained a license from the board of trustees of Richmond, Contra Costa county, to conduct a 45 round fight between Stanley Ketchel and Sam Langford for the middleweight championship of the world on July 2.

AD'S FRUIT LAX

Here is a gentle, never failing laxative which works upon the liver and bowels without gripping or causing nausea or a wormout feeling afterward.

It does not upset the entire system, causing loss of appetite, great inconvenience and distress, but it acts like nature acts and you can take it any time during the day or night. It is one of the best remedies of the great American Druggists Syndicate of 12,000 druggists, and entirely unlike any other laxative. In fact next to a reputable physician's prescription it is the best laxative known.

BAKER The New Backet Phone 1072-4

808 MIDDLESEX STREET

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 8.—Republicans of Wisconsin met in state convention in the auditorium this afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining the general party sentiment toward the present national administration and to consider the advisability of recommending or endorsing candidates for state officers to be voted for at the September primary election.

The convention was made up of 1065 delegates. Among the delegates are a number of followers of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette but the majority are adherents of the so-called stalwart wing of the party.

There are five avowed candidates in the field for the gubernatorial nomination, exclusive of Gov. Davidson who has not declared himself.

MASON'S MEET

CLEVELAND, O., June 8.—Nearly two thousand Masons from all parts of the country today participated in the 21st annual session of the supreme council of the Mystic order of the veiled prophets of the enchanted realm.

This morning there was a parade headed by Grand Marshal Burke, Grand Marshal C. Baehr, mayor of Cleveland, delivered an address of welcome at the temple.

CITY SOLICITOR SAYS ALDERMEN CANNOT GRANT LICENSES FOR FIREWORKS

The city solicitor has addressed the following letter to the city clerk:

In reply to your letter of even date, I will state that it is my opinion that the board of aldermen has no power in the matter of granting licenses or permits for the sale of fireworks, etc.

The city council may by ordinance prohibit the sale or use of fireworks, but the matter of granting permits in the various cases comes under the hands of some local official appointed for this purpose by the chief of the district police. Such permits must be granted, if at all, only under the conditions set forth in chapter 565 of the Acts of 1910. Very truly yours,

Wm. W. Duncan, City Solicitor.

RETAIL CLERKS HELD A VERY ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING LAST NIGHT

An enthusiastic meeting of the Retail Clerks was held last evening in the U. A. hall in Middle street, at which a permanent organization was formed, to be known as the Lowell Retail Clerks' association. Over 200 have already given in their names as charter members and it is hoped to bring the membership up to at least 1000 within a very short time.

The constitution provides that any employee of any retail establishment in the city of Lowell may become a member by complying with the constitution and by-laws adopted at last night's meeting. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year and will be installed at a public installation in O. U. A. hall Tuesday, June 21st, to which prominent citizens of this city will be invited as guests of the association.

President, William J. Cassidy; first vice president, Thomas F. Kennedy; second vice president, Miss A. M. Snow; recording secretary, John J. Cram; financial secretary, Frank E. McLean; treasurer, Ernest G. Gaudier; directors, Anna Jennings, Peter Brouseaux and Peter Flood.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur St. Hilaire, employed in the stereotyping department of The Sun and a popular young man in social and fraternal circles, and Miss Eva Forget were united in marriage yesterday at a nuptial mass at St. Joseph's church which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. There was a large number of relatives and friends in attendance to witness the ceremony.

The attendants of the bride and bridegroom were Mr. James St. Hilaire, the bridegroom's father, and Mr. Joseph Forget, a brother of the bride, as witnesses, and Mr. Edgar St. Hilaire, the bridegroom's brother, as best man, and Miss Forget, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. The bride wore a handsome gown of white lace over white silk, with a veil caught with orange blossoms and carried bride roses. During the mass the choir of Notre-Dame de Lourdes, locally sang, with Mr. Joseph A. Bernard at the organ.

A dinner was served in the afternoon at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 7 Clinton avenue, where a reception was given last night. Mr. and Mrs. St. Hilaire, who have received many beautiful gifts, will reside at 467 Moody street.

CHALICE OF GOLD WAS PRESENTED BY PRIESTS TO BISHOP ANDERSON

BOSTON, June 8.—At the cathedral yesterday morning there were gathered nearly 600 pastors and curates of the Catholic diocese of Boston, the student body from St. John's ecclesiastical seminary, Brighton, and a large congregation of the laity, the occasion being the observance of the feast of the priesthood. Archbishop O'Connell celebrated the mass.

Following the mass Fr. Denis J. O'Farrell, rector of St. Francis church, Roxbury, moved to the pulpit and in a fitting address presented a handsome gold chalice, beautifully engraved and studded with jewels, to Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, D. D., rector of St. Paul's church, Dorchester, and auxiliary bishop of the diocese, in behalf of the priest.

Bishop Anderson, who had been invited to preach the sermon on the occasion of the feast of the priesthood, was taken completely by surprise by the gift. He then delivered the sermon, dealing with the office of the priesthood. Archbishop O'Connell also spoke upon the priesthood.

GENERAL CARTER ACTING CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Major Gen. Wm. H. Carter, lately in command of the Philippine division, assumed the duties of acting chief of staff of the army today, relieving Gen. Tasker H. Bliss. After a short absence, he will assume command of the department of the Pacific at San Francisco.

Gen. Carter will act as chief of staff until the return to Washington of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, when he will become assistant chief. Gen. Wood is expected here about the middle of July.

TO DEFEAT GOV. DRAPER

EXTRA ORGANIZED LABOR

To Begin Campaign Against Re-election of the Governor

BOSTON, June 8.—Organized labor as represented by the executive board of the Massachusetts state branch, American Federation of Labor, voted today to begin a campaign against the re-election of Gov. Draper. The board adopted a resolution censuring Gov. Draper for vetoing a bill designed to make eight hours a day's work for public employees.

$1,200 VERDICT THE SUGAR CASES

Returned in Superior Court Today Trial May Not be Concluded Today

In the case of James Ford against the Cochran Chemical company, which was opened at yesterday's session of the superior court in this city, the jury today returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,200. It was alleged that Ford was in the employ of the defendant company and that while engaged at work and in the exercise of due care a derrick fell on him injuring his leg.

CROPS DAMAGED

By a Hail Storm in Tewksbury

Tewksbury experienced a hail storm yesterday afternoon that was something decidedly out of the ordinary for the month of June, and was much more attractive and exciting than a June wedding.

THE FINNISH BILL

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—The opponents of the Finnish bill giving the duma executive authority over Finland abandoned the fight today and retired from the chamber. This action ensures the adoption of the measure as a whole.

AT VASSAR COLLEGE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 8.—Vassar college graduated 217 young women today. President Taylor announced, among other changes, the retirement of Miss Frances Wood as librarian after 43 years' service. Miss Wood's successor is Miss Amy Reed, 1892, of New Rochelle. The trustees have voted to continue the limit of 1000 students for another year at least.

LIABILITIES ARE $75,000

HALIFAX, N. S., June 8.—The W. H. Johnson Co., piano dealers of Halifax, Sydney, New Glasgow and St. John, has assigned for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are $75,000; assets, $39,000.

COOK SUES PEARY

BERLIN, June 8.—According to Lokal Anzeiger, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, has instituted suit in the Berlin courts against Commander Robert E. Peary. The paper says that Cook seeks to recover $10,000 which he alleges to be due him in payment for bear skins and other products delivered to the commander.

SOLOMON MAYBERRY

Elected Principal Assessor by Board of Aldermen

Rather Stormy Meeting at Which Mayor Meehan Presided and Took Direct Issue With Committee on Appropriations in Regard to Expenses at the Farm This and Past Years—Vote to Purchase Livingston Land for Public Park—$25,000 Voted for Macadamizing Streets

The board of aldermen met last night and elected Solomon S. Mayberry assessor of taxes in concurrence. Mr. Mayberry will succeed the late Abel Wheeler.

SOLOMON S. MAYBERRY
Principal Assessor.

Mayor Meehan presided at the meeting and the session, for a time, was a bit stormy. In the early part of the meeting Ald. Qua moved that the board adjourn and Ald. Gray seconded. The mayor refused to put the motion until he had made his statement and Alderman Gray, Qua and Byam left the chamber temporarily.

JENNISON'S Tooth Powder

ren F. Sanborn. The mayor severely criticized the board for its action in the election of Mr. Mayberry.

Other Matters

A communication from Mayor Meehan, asking that $200 be set aside for office supplies for the smoke inspector, was read and referred to the committee on appropriations.

To Purchase Livingston Land

When the order for $12,000 for the purchase of the Livingston land in the Highlands for park and playground purposes was read, Alderman Connors said it was a "hand scheme, pure and simple."

Arthur Renaud Wound Around a Shaft and Instantly Killed

Arthur Renaud was killed and horribly mangled shortly after 7 o'clock this morning as a result of being wound around a shaft at the works of the W. H. Bagshaw estate in Wilson street, off Chelmsford street.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Chauffeur Injured; Dr. Varney Unhurt

There was an automobile accident in North Chelmsford this afternoon in which a professional chauffeur, from West-of-town, was quite seriously injured. It was a collision between two automobiles. One was occupied and driven by Dr. Fred E. Varney and he escaped injury. Mr. Horace E. Noyes who was in the other automobile also escaped serious injury.

AUTO BILL PASSED

Authorizing Closing of Roads in September for Race

The bill authorizing the closing of the auto course in September was engrossed in the senate today and will now go to the governor for signature. Senator Hibbard has given special attention to the measure and succeeded in having it passed through the final stage in the senate today.

TERRIBLE DEATH

Arthur Renaud Wound Around a Shaft and Instantly Killed

Arthur Renaud was killed and horribly mangled shortly after 7 o'clock this morning as a result of being wound around a shaft at the works of the W. H. Bagshaw estate in Wilson street, off Chelmsford street. The accident happened in the grinding room which is in the basement of the main building. One of the principal outputs of the Bagshaw plant is needles for phonographs, and Renaud was employed on one of the machines which grind the pieces of steel to the needle point. It is thought that one of the belts which transmits the power from the shaft to the machine either broke or jumped the pulley and it was while trying to repair the damage that he met his death.

TOM CORBETT

HAS BEEN APPOINTED OFFICIAL BETTING COMMISSIONER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—In order to protect bettors who may lay wagers on the Jeffries-Johnson fight, Tom Corbett last night appointed Tom Corbett official betting commissioner. He authorized Corbett to handle all of the money that may be bet on the fighters and gave him the exclusive privilege of sending his assistants through the crowd at the ring on the day of the contest.

The first big bet was received by Corbett last night from Irving Well of St. Joseph, Mo., who wired $500 to be laid against $500 on Johnson to whip Jeffries.

JIM JEFFRIES

ORDERED TO PAY A PROMISSORY NOTE

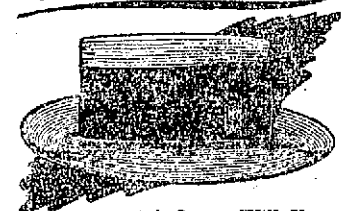

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., June 8.—J. J. Jeffries must pay a promissory note given a citizen of Bear Valley, or stop training for his bout with Johnson long enough to come to this city and defend the case brought against him. When the case was called in court yesterday the attorney for Jeffries asked a continuance to some date after the big fight but Judge Jones set the case for June 15th. Jeffries is being sued by C. A. Stout to recover $2000. The fighter in his answer claims the note was given to pay a gambling debt.

JIM JEFFRIES

PREFERS HANDBALL TO THE BOXING GAME

BEN LOMOND, Cal., June 8.—Jim Jeffries would rather play handball than spar. Ben Lomond is convinced of that; also the crowd of visitors who flocked into camp here yesterday in the expectation of seeing Jeffries box with Corbett and who had to satisfy themselves with a handball exhibition between the former champion and Jeffries' training companions account for his disinclination to box on the assumption that as he is careful in his training bouts not to let himself out, sparring "under wraps" is irksome to him. As is well known whatever Jeffries does he does with all his might and between the necessity of holding himself in at boxing and the privilege of turning himself loose at handball, the latter form of exercise wins his vote every time. In proof of this contention his trainer quote a recent re-

ANOTHER AMERICAN GIRL TO BE FIRST LADY OF INDIA

LONDON, June 8.—A New York girl is to divide honors in ruling India. For the second time in its history the splendor of the courts of India will be graced by a native of the United States. King George V's cabinet has decided to appoint Hon. Lewis Harcourt as viceroy of India to succeed Lord Minto, it is said. Miss Mary Ethel Burns, daughter of the late W. H. Burns of New York, is the wife of Harcourt. Lord Curzon of Kedleston, who married Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago, was the viceroy of India before Lord Minto. Lord Minto is expected to be succeeded by Harcourt within the next month. Minto has grown tired of the post owing to the many dangers that surround it. Several times within the last year attempts have been made on his life by Indian Nationalists. Harcourt is a millionaire and has proved one of the ablest members of parliament and of the English cabinet, now holding the post of first commissioner of works.

BILLY NOLAN

WAS JOHNSON'S MANAGER BUT SHORT-TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—In view of what has happened to George Little and Billy Nolan many are asking if Jack Johnson's latest managerial move will prove to be only a temporary one.

According to last night's announcement of the negro champion, Tom Flanagan, the athlete who has come into prominence as the developer of Long-beast and other long distance champions and who is in charge of Johnson's roadwork, will be a sort of near-manager for the fighter.

"He will help me to manage my business affairs until July 5th," runs Johnson's statement and he says he is sorry that Flanagan's personal affairs will take the runner to Canada immediately after the big fight.

Light on the reason of Billy Nolan's just relinquishment of the job of managing the negro was shed last night by Promoter Tex Rickard, who stated that he urged Johnson in the interest of harmony not to take Nolan

Annual June Waist Sale

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 9, 10, 11

"Hard Hit"

That's the story in a nutshell, say WAIST MANUFACTURERS this season. Cancellations and unfavorable trade conditions are responsible. A maker of High Grade waists, in his mad search last week for a merchant with ready money, came to us with a sacrifice proposition for SPOT CASH. Fortunately we had the money, and the conditions were just ripe, all in our favor to drive a hard bargain. When the deal went through we smiled and said: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." Then thought of the great savings to our customers, otherwise impossible but for the power of ready cash and the clinching of a timely purchase. June will surely be a lively waist month at the waist shop.

SCHOONER DAMAGED
VINEYARD HAVEN, June 8.—With her jibboom and rigging carried away, the five masted schooner Van Allens, Boughten, Philadelphia, for Portsmouth, N. H., limped past this port today, making but moderate headway before a snappy southeast wind. To all appearances the schooner lost her rigging during the heavy blow last night. It is believed that upon arrival in Boston Bay the Boughten will hire a tug to tow her to her destination.

ASKS INJUNCTION

Woman Says Man is Annoying Her

BOSTON, June 8.—Bertha S. M. Hall, a stenographer, living at 126 Berkeley street, brought a bill in the superior court yesterday against William A. Nickerson, said to live at 102 West Brookline street, though his name is not in the Boston directory, asking for an injunction to restrain him from interfering with her in any way.

She is unmarried and he is married and has a family. She says they became acquainted in 1902 and he paid attentions to her. She did not know he was married, but when she did learn that fact she left him. This was in August, 1905. Immediately she went to Chicago to live.

She asserts that her departure so incensed him that he hired detectives to ascertain her whereabouts and for upward of a year she was greatly annoyed and molested by detectives.

With a view to avoid the detectives she remained away until September, 1909, when she returned to her native home at Hinsdale, N. H. to live with her mother. Subsequently the defendant learned that she was there and she alleges he wrote to her demanding an interview. She did not answer the letter.

Shortly afterward she moved to Boston and obtained the position which she now holds. She went to board at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ray, 126 Berkeley street.

On June 4 the defendant called on a friend of hers and said he "was after her and intended to see her whether she would consent or not, according to the allegations in the bill. On Sunday last he called at her home in Berkeley street and she refused to see him. He talked with Dr. and Mrs. Ray, she alleges, and told them that he intended to interview her, regardless of whether she consented, and also made false statements to them about her.

CITY FATHERS

Are in Danger of Arrest

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—On the claim that the public records of the city of Cambridge have not been properly safeguarded, warrants have been requested for the arrest of every one of Cambridge's 33 city fathers, by Henry E. Woods of Boston, state commissioner of public records.

The complaint was filed by Commissioner Woods before Judge Almy in the Third district court of eastern Middlesex county and notice to appear before him on the question of granting the warrants was received and read last night at the meeting of the Cambridge board of aldermen.

SIX INJURED

WHEN THE CONTROLLER OF CAR BLEW UP

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8.—Six persons were more or less seriously injured and a number of others hurt when the controller of an open trolley car, running through Grand avenue late yesterday, blew up with a loud report, and a sheet of flame enveloped the side of the car. Among the twenty passengers on the car were a number of women and several of these in their panic either jumped or fell from the moving car, receiving more or less serious injuries.

MAN MAY LIVE WORK COMPLETED

He Threw Himself in Front of Train

BOSTON, June 8.—Falling to end his life by slashing his throat with a razor, John Murray, a barber, ran through School and Washington streets late yesterday and threw himself in front of a tunnel train at the Union street station. The train struck the man squarely and tossed him safely over the third rail into one of the apartments in the cement wall, used for the protection of trackwalkers. At the Relief hospital last night it was believed the man would live, notwithstanding his varied attempts at suicide.

Murray was employed as a barber at one of the hotels and quarreled with the proprietor, who discharged him. He went into the washroom of an adjoining hotel and cut his throat, but failed to touch a vital part. The blood was flowing freely down over his clothes as he ran through the streets to the tunnel and he was given a wide berth by the pedestrians.

WANT NEGRO TROOPS REMOVED

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—Private Nathan Biedler of Company D, 25th U. S. Infantry, was turned over to the Seattle police yesterday by the commander of Fort Lawton, after having been identified as the negro who forced his way into the home of Mrs. J. W. Hedding and ill treated her Saturday night. Biedler is now locked up in the city jail.

The city council has adopted a resolution requesting the congressional delegation from this state to seek to obtain the removal of the negro troops from Fort Lawton.

State Convention Artisans Francais Closed

The state convention of Les Artisans Canadiens-Francais, which was opened Monday morning at C. M. A. C. hall, came to a close last night about six o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon considerable routine business was transacted. The most important matter considered was whether or not the body would pay sick benefits to members holding a $250 policy. At the present time benefits are paid only to those holding a $500 policy. After considerable discussion, pro and con, it was voted to grant the amendment.

A vote of thanks was extended to Vice President General Ludger Gravel for his generous gift of a commemorative medal to the delegates. Votes of thanks were also given to Presiding Officer George Archambault of Holyoke and to other officers of the convention, to the Lowell committee and Janitor Henri Barry of the C. M. A. C. for his courtesy to the delegates, who were given the freedom of the building and use of its privileges.

The next convention will be held in Fall River. From Lowell the general officers are going on to Providence, where the joint convention of Rhode Island and Connecticut opens tomorrow. A graceful courtesy on the part of Vice President Gravel was his giving of gold and bronze medals for the pupils of the French American parochial schools, in the name of the Artisans society. Both St. Joseph's and St. Louis schools have thus been favored.

NEW BUNCO GAME

WAS WORKED ON A MANCHESTER MAN

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Victor Riel of 147 Central street is mourning the loss of $260, through which the police, to whom complaint has been made, believe to be one of the cleverest bunco games ever worked in the state.

The game is an entirely new one, and is ingenious enough to be worthy of larger spoils than were secured from the unfortunate mill worker who became its victim. Mr. Riel is a man of limited means and it is believed that the alleged swindlers struck him for no more because they set it as pretty near the limit of his resources.

The police are looking for a couple who registered at a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lajeunesse and were known as Young. The man alleged to have fallen heir to a fortune and secured the money on a promise to pay Riel, whose acquaintance he had picked up, $1000.

Riel went to New York with Mrs. Young to get the money, but the game was stopped by Francois Luc, his nephew, and Riel is now out only the expenses of the trip and the $260. The police are seeking the alleged bunco-coers.

VESSEY ELECTED

PIERRE, S. D., June 8.—Returns from yesterday's primaries are slow, but indications are that the stalwart congressional ticket was elected with an insurgent governor, Vasssey.

The rest of the state ticket seems likely to land on either side, when the votes are all counted.

TO ELIMINATE SCHOOL FADS

From Chicago comes the report that Mrs. Ella Flag Young, the superintendent of schools in that city, is leading a crusade for the elimination of fads and frills from our school system. Possibly she imagines she has discovered something new or that she is the pioneer in a movement that is very essential and important.

That movement is old, but thus far it has never made much progress. There has never been a superintendent who did much more than talk about these defects. It is very easy to denounce the fads and the frills, they have been denounced thousands of times, but five thousand times have now fads and frills been brought in by enthusiastic educators who are all the time riding some hobby.

There was a time when kindergartens were exploited as the greatest scheme ever invented for developing the perceptive faculties of the child from mere infancy up without letting the child know that it was doing anything else than romp and dance and sing. But we have had the kindergartens for a good many years, and it is still a question on which educators are divided as to whether the kindergartens are a benefit or an injury to the children. Some parents believe that the effect is injurious not only on the minds but the health of the children. Nevertheless, the fad is established and it comes in very handy as a species of free public nursery which relieves the mothers from the care of their children for a part of the day.

How will the fads be eliminated? Does Mrs. Young explain? Not yet. When she gets well started in the work, if indeed she adopts any practical plan, somebody else will probably take her place and put the fads back where they were before. But what is the best method of relegating the fads to the background where they belong? Must the whole school machinery be reconstructed? We think not.

All that is desired is to have sufficient progress made in the essential branches. Let this progress be insisted upon at the expense of the fads. Then the latter will go to the wall.

But who will insist upon adequate progress in reading, writing, arithmetic, language and drawing? The superintendent of schools, who in a great many cities like our own, has to depend upon a school board of very mixed ideas in regard to such matters. That does not offer much encouragement in the line of eliminating fads; but we repeat, that if fads are to go, the best plan is to set a higher standard of efficiency in the essential branches, thus calling for more time and leaving less for the frills. This and a search for results with the elimination of incidental teaching by which time is wasted, may do much good in securing better results. The whole country will watch with much interest to see whether this crusade led by Mrs. Young will ever pass the hot air stage.

CHIEF CROKER ON INEFFICIENT FIREMEN

Apropos of the fatality to firemen in a recent fire, Chief Croker of New York city is very bitter in his denunciation of what he calls "civil service firemen." Under other conditions his utterance might be taken as a slap at a system that put a stop to the appointment of firemen by political agencies. In this case it seems Chief Croker charges the young civil service men with running away and leaving two of the daring men to perish in the flames.

It is undoubtedly difficult to judge of the essential qualities that a fireman should possess by the civil service methods. Yet the civil service passes upon the qualification of police officers who, however, are seldom subjected to the severe trials so common to firemen and especially New York firemen. Chief Croker may know what he is talking about when he says that but 40 per cent. of his firemen have the brain and the lungs necessary for effective fire fighting.

In reference to the fire at which two men were killed on Monday, however, we are of the opinion that a blaze in which chemicals, aniline dyes, paints and oils are burned, is very treacherous because of the fumes an explosion may send out into the air. No man, not even Chief Croker himself, could withstand the suffocating fumes from such elements. But Chief Croker was on the ground, and he says:—

"There was a panic in that fire and I want it known. A majority of the men fighting that fire were young civil service firemen. When they got into the thick of the smoke their lungs could not stand the strain. They got frightened, dropped the hose and ran. It wasn't much of a fire at that."

The chief further says:—

"The department is but 40 per cent. efficient. I want some men with brains, yes; but I want all of them with lungs. The cigarette-smoking, weak lunged, under-sized civil service firemen have been demoralizing the department for the past 25 years—ever since the civil service commission began to pass on applicants. The 40 per cent. efficiency puts them into the 60 per cent. inefficiency but there are fewer old timers every year."

If firemen have weak lungs, if they are undersized, if they are addicted to the cigarette habit, they cannot be relied upon to do the best work in fighting a fire.

This remark by Chief Croker suggests drill practice that has been recognized as a neglected necessity for many years. If firemen are left without any vigorous exercise except when they are called to a fire, they must soon lapse into poor physical condition. Like other men who have but little exercise, firemen will lose strength and activity from the lack of exercise.

The words of Chief Croker, although uttered under some excitement, bear a valuable suggestion for fire chiefs and firemen as to the maintenance of general efficiency, how it can be continually kept up by the proper exercise of men now on the force and by excluding men who are not likely to reach a high standard of efficiency in every emergency.

SEEN AND HEARD

Waking up at 7 o'clock in the morning to find that, while sound asleep his fellow-workmen at the boarding house had wrapped him in a winding sheet and placed lighted tapers at his head and feet as a joke, Edward Bach, 27 years old, a plasterer, of Erie, Pa., became greatly frightened over the evil portent and exclaimed: "This means bad luck for me."

His fellow-workmen, who stood about to see the "fun" when Bach awoke, laughed uproariously. An hour later Bach was dead. He and seven other workmen, some of them of the number who had perpetrated the "joke," climbed on a scaffolding at the Forged Steel Wheel Works at 8 o'clock. The moment the men got their weight on it the structure broke, killing Bach and seriously injuring most of the seven.

An uncle of Grover Cleveland has arrived in Boston harbor as skipper of the little British schooner Nellie of Yarmouth, N. S.

When a reporter clambered over the side of the two-sticker as she was anchored on Commonwealth flats he found Capt. C. E. Cleveland in command.

THE NEWSPAPER GUY

I see a man pushing his way through the lines. Where the work of the terrible fire fiend shines. "The chief? I inquire; and a policeman replies "Why, no; he's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man walk through the door of a show. Where great throngs are blocked by the sign, "S. R. O."

"Is this man a star that no ticket he 'Star nothing! He's one of those newspaper guys!"

I see a man start on the trail of a crook. While he scorns the police and brings "Sherlock Holmes?" I exclaim; and someone replies "Sherlock Holmes? That's one of those newspaper guys!"

And some day I'll pass by, the great gates of gold. And see a man pass through, unquestioned and bold.

"A saint?" and St. Peter will surely reply. "He carries a pass; that's a newspaper guy!" —Judge.

"Pardon me, madam, but the way that man across the aisle is staring at you must be very offensive. Do you wish me to interfere?"

"Oh, no, thank you. That's my husband."

"Your husband?"

"Yes. He's very near-sighted and thinks I'm somebody else."

"Any relation to Grover Cleveland?" asked the reporter.

"Sure, an uncle," replied the skipper without a pause. And that he was not joking the skipper proved by the following explanation:

"You see, on the day that Cleveland was inaugurated president the second time my brother's wife gave birth to a boy, and they named him Grover, after the president. So I am the uncle of Grover Cleveland."

There was no argument about that. Incidentally the Nellie is the first sailing vessel that ever arrived in Boston from a foreign port with a cargo of seaweed. There were just 823 bales of it.

"Nobody is treated better than the photographer who doesn't butt in unnecessarily said the man with the camera. "People go out of their way to give us something to work on. Why yesterday morning I received a letter from the proprietor of an up-town hotel, who informed me that one of the city's historic old trees which stood in front of his house was about to be cut down. He thought I might like a picture of the tree and took the trouble to notify me of its proposed destruction. When I got up there I found the tree surrounded by a squad of camera men, all of whom had received a courteous note from the landlord. Eventually he may profit a little from the free advertising, but at the same time he did us fellows a good turn by calling our attention to an old landmark that we would otherwise have overlooked."

"The times when customers make me feel as if I ought to be in jail and will probably land there some day are when I count out change for a blind person and the grocer. The blind member of a family very often does part of the marketing and sometimes he pays with a bill that calls for a handful of change. Other customers who have kindly superintended the buying get all worked up over our finances. They watch every cent that I lay down. For my reputation's sake I would never dare to hand over the change to a blind person in one lump. Right out on the counter, where everybody can see, I count it piece by piece, ten, twenty-five, fifty, a dollar. Then the blind man counts his change again by touch, finds that he has not been cheated and everybody goes home satisfied."

"A young couple recently married came into our store the other day," said the silversmith, "with a big silver pitcher and wanted us to change the initials on it so that they would give it to another couple as a wedding present. They had received three others themselves. We can sometimes do it, and I sent it up to the workrooms but word came back that it could not be done in this case because the initials had already been erased four times."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Lillian Nordica is to give a concert June 16 in the town hall of Irvington, N. Y., in the interests of woman's suffrage. Besides appearing in songs, she will probably deliver a speech in favor of the suffragists.

Alice Zimmerman, the translator of Blum's "Home Life of the Ancient Greeks," has allied herself actively with the suffragette movement in London. Miss Zimmerman is a Clifton college graduate and a student of education at the University of the United States in France and Germany. Since she left college she has been engaged in literary work and lecturing. Her recreations she describes as walking, pets and patience.

A special feature of the annual convocation of the faculties of arts, science and law of McGill University, Montreal, was the granting of the Ph.D. degree for the first time. One of the three candidates to receive it was a woman, Miss A. L. McLeod, who has distinguished herself in the study of the history of the United States at Columbia University. The other successful candidates were S. Kersch, who has been a demonstrator at McGill, and J. A. Bancroft, assistant professor of geology, who wrote a thesis on the geology of western Canada and holds degrees from both Cambridge and Yale.

Mme. Yvette Guilbert, the comedienne and singer, is about to establish in Paris a school of singing. "I am convinced," said Mme. Guilbert, "that my method will entirely revolutionize the old school of instruction, and the result will be that we shall in future generations have a far greater proportion of really good singers. My school will be more particularly for children. I am going to instruct children how to use their voices to the best advantage. In my opinion nobody is worthy of the name of singer unless he enters into the full spirit of the song. Frankly, I may tell you that I don't think that in this sense you have a single singer worthy of the name on the English music hall stage."

Orin Bates, E. A. F. R. G. S., son of Prof. A. O. Bates, who has been engaged for the winter in the excavation work in Nubia, has been asked by the Egyptian public works department at Cairo to submit plans for a special museum which it is proposed to build at Assuan to contain the Nubian material. The proposed museum is intended to exhibit not only the actual results of the excavations, but especially by means of photographs, tomb-groups and records, to illustrate the methods employed by the Nubian archaeological survey in charge of Mr. Firth, which has come to be regarded as having reached the high water mark in modern field work. As the work of the survey has dealt not only with cemeteries and burial places, but with large ruins and town sites, this exhibition should be of interest and importance. Mr. Bates studied museography, at Berlin, under the late Dr. Conrad Meyer.

Miss Mary L. Brady is the principal of public school 17, at the corner of Market and Munroe streets, New York, where a new farm garden has just been opened. This school has an enrollment of 2400 children, the majority of whom have never seen the green country. Mrs. Henry Parsons and other officers of the International Children's School League, Inc., suggested that they should have a chance to plant things and watch them growing. Mrs. Russell Sage and six other friends of the league each contributed $100, and earth was bought and spread over a part of the school yard to the depth of a foot and a half. This area was divided into 55 plots, one of which was allotted to each of the classes. The teachers became so interested that several of them took a course in the training class in gardening conducted by Mrs. Parsons at the New York university.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

They say that Creator is crazy—wait till you see De Noto conduct his men at Washington next week. De Noto is an Italian by birth, he lives for music—in fact he cuts music, it is his life, his all, and when he conducts he forgets the audience, he forgets that anyone sees him, he forgets his baton like Napoleon swinging his sword. He does not conduct with his baton only but with his whole body and at times with his feet, he jumps and swings himself, he dances in fact he is a grotesque, but he is a great musician—he says "Well, I know I am crazy every genius is crazy."

De Noto with his band will be one of the many great features at Perin's Hippodrome next week. See our advertisement in this paper for the complete program and you will wonder how such an extended and expensive bill can be given for the nominal price of ten cents.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today is the last for seeing "The

What Else Please?

WASHBURN-CROSBYS

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Nothing Else Thank You
Just GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Peacemaker" at the Theatre Voyons and no one who likes a comedy drama should miss seeing this production. It is finely staged and well acted and its story not only grips the attention but holds it through the entire picture. Tomorrow the feature will be an elaborate production of "Macbeth" turned out by Pathe Freres which is a sure guarantee of its worth. This tragedy, considered one of the best ever written, calls for many exceptionally elaborate stage settings and effects and it equals some of the most important productions of history in the completeness of its equipment. Miss Ida Wilson in roles and James and Lillian Bales in duets form features unequalled on the musical stage.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Seldom if ever, has there been a bill that can equal this week's both in variety of acts and ability of enactment. Loring and Parquette are very clever in their act "The Awakening of Cleo." Bruce Morgan is making a big hit with his singing and dancing act. Commencing tomorrow a new bill will be shown, heading the vaudeville will be Leslie Morosco and Co. in their great comedy act "We need the money," and J. Early Hughes with a singing and talking act. Amateur night tonight, 5 and 10 cents.

THE BOYCOTT

ON THE AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK BEEN LIFTED

CLEVELAND, O., June 8.—The union labor boycott on American League Baseball Park, where the Cleveland team plays, was lifted last night by an agreement entered into between Ray Johnson, president of the American baseball league, and officials representing the American Federation of Labor, and the local unions of Cleveland.

The terms of the agreement are that in all American league baseball parks, no signs shall be sold without the union label, and that all printing ordered by the league clubs shall be given to union shops. It is also provided that any stands erected or other structural work taken in hand by the clubs shall be entrusted solely to union labor.

The boycott was called at the beginning of the season because of a complaint by the local unions that non-union labor had been employed in the erection of the stands in Cleveland's new baseball park. The Cleveland team now agrees to play one game this season for the benefit of a charity to be designated by the union.

ORDINATION EXERCISES

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., June 8.—The alumni association of the Berkeley Divinity school held its 34th annual gathering here last night, which will be followed Wednesday by the 36th annual ordination exercises.

Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster conferred the degree of bachelor of divinity upon Rev. S. S. Drury of St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., and four others.

TO BE DEPORTED

WILD MEN OF BORNEO MUST RETURN HOME

NEW YORK, June 8.—Whether the civilization of the United States has been established on a plane where there is no longer a field for a wild man to make a living here in a professional capacity is a question the department of commerce and labor will be called on to decide.

The New York immigration authorities answered the question in the affirmative yesterday, when they ordered the deportation of twenty "wild men of Borneo" brought here for exhibition at a summer show.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

NEW YORK, June 8.—The American Polo association, through its secretary, W. A. Hazard, sent a cable message to the Hurlingham Polo club of London, yesterday, accepting the latter's challenge for the international matches will be played at Meadowbrook, L. I.

High Cost of Living Contest

MADAM—you try to serve palatable, satisfying meals and probably you often think marketing is very expensive. We've thought about the high cost of living also. We are interested to know just how good a dinner—costing fifty cents—can be served to five people.

To the housewife who submits in writing the best menu for a 50c. dinner sufficient for a family of five persons, we will present the choice of either a

BARSTOW RANGE ABSOLUTELY FREE

This contest closes July 15th. There are no coupons to save or cut out. Just write one menu or several—on one side of any kind of paper, hand to any BARSTOW STOVE Dealer or mail to "Range Contest Department," BARSTOW STOVE CO., Providence, R. I.

This contest will be decided strictly on its merits by the following committee which has consented to judge for us:

Mr. M. H. Reidy, Business Manager of The Lowell Sun; Mr. John P. Curley of the John Street Public Market; and Mr. D. L. Page of the D. L. Page Co.

Don't forget to put your name and address on each menu you send and remember that each dish you name must be figured at the actual market cost of food.

Learn what a splendid range you can compete for, by stepping into a BARSTOW STOVE Dealer's and asking to see it.

BARSTOW RANGES possess every improvement worthy of use in a range and many special time and labor-saving features found in no other ranges.

We will award a $75 combination range with gas oven and gas shelf for use with or without coal fire. It has two heat indicators, sectional covers, towel dryer, oven food rack, simmering cover, nickel parts detach quickly when polishing.

Like all BARSTOW RANGES, it will cook a 50c. or $50 dinner with two-thirds the fuel required by other makes.

Put your thinking cap on now. Send in your menu today.

LOSS IS $6000

Main Building of Military Academy Destroyed by Fire

NORWALK, Conn., June 8.—The greater portion of the main building of the Overlook-Selleck military academy was destroyed by fire early today, entailing a loss of approximately $6000 and compelling the 75 students of the institution to seek shelter for the remainder of the night at Norwalk hotel. The fire started in the tower in the center of the main building, a wooden structure 200 feet long by 50 feet wide and spread to the rear and sides. The students were aroused from their beds and many of them made their escape clad only in their night clothing. Several of the students were compelled to jump from the windows on the second story but all escaped injury. The fire ate rapidly into the center of the old wooden structure and it was not until the firemen had fought for nearly three hours that it was gotten under control. The tower fell in, which aided the firemen in reaching the rear and working from both sides. The building was erected some 25 years ago by Rev. Charles M. Selleck, who died two years ago. It is now owned by the James estate and is fully insured. A large number of the students are foreigners. The cause of the fire is not known.

THURSDAY IS BARGAIN DAY IN THE LOWELL STORES.

MORE EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS
NAPLES, June 8.—During the night a series of slight earthquake shocks were recorded by the seismographs at points in southern Italy. The disturbances however, were not otherwise noticeable and today the people throughout the region that was severely shaken yesterday, are calmer in the hope that the worst is over.

PLEADED GUILTY

Woman Was Charged With Smuggling

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mrs. Charles Allen of Kenosha, Wis., whose husband is the senior member of the firm of C. N. Allen Sons Co. and a director in the Central Leather Co., appeared today before Justice Holt in the United States circuit court and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging her with having smuggled into the country when she arrived here last Friday on the Lusitania, jewelry and wearing apparel worth about $5000.

MISS DREXEL BECOMES BRIDE OF THE VISCOUNT MAIDSTONE

LONDON, June 8.—The marriage of the Viscount Maidstone, elder son of the Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham, and Miss Margaret Armstrong Drexel, daughter of Anthony Drexel, the first of the three Anglo-American weddings to take place in London this month, was celebrated this afternoon at St. Margaret's, Westminster. There was a large attendance both at the church and at the reception held afterwards at Mr. Drexel's residence in Grosvenor square. The service was fully choral, the bishop of London and Canon Hanson of St. Margaret's officiating. The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away. There were ten bridesmaids as follows: Lady Gladys Finch-Hatton, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Hilda Chichester and Miss Essex Vere Gunning, cousins of the bridegroom; Miss Rieola Astley, daughter of Douglas Lord Hastings; Lady Violet Manners, Miss Sibyl Pellos, daughter of Lord Dramsey; Miss Constance Combs, daughter of Lady Combs; Miss Edith Wayne of Philadelphia, and two American brides-elect, Miss Mildred Carter, who is to be married to Lord Acheson on June 21, and Miss Helen Post, to be married three days later to Montague Elliot. Charles Mills, son of Lord Hillington, was the best man.

The two received many presents. The bride's father gave her a diamond tiara as well as an automobile, in which Lord and Lady Maidstone are to tour the continent on their honeymoon. Mrs. Drexel's gift to her daughter was a rope of pearls.

BAN JOHNSON HAS PLAN TO AID EX-BALL PLAYERS

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—President Frank Navin of the Detroit Americans says that when Ban Johnson, president of the American league, was here last week he proposed a plan for aiding "down and out" ball players which was approved by the American league president and steps have been taken to put it into operation. Navin's proposal, he says, was inspired by the present difficulties of Adrian C. Anson of Chicago. In brief, it is this:

That once each year each club in the American and National leagues designate some game in its schedule, the gross receipts of which are to be turned into a fund for the aid of ex-ball players and other followers of the game who were in straitened circumstances, the game to be advertised as a benefit, thus increasing the receipts. President Johnson thought $50,000 a year could be raised by this means.

SKULL LAID OPEN

BOY USED AN AXE ON BABY'S HEAD

JERSEY CITY, June 8.—Edw. Nolan, three years and two weeks old, had his skull opened to the extent of over two inches with an axe wielded by four-year-old Freddie Joyce yesterday. The pair had a few words about a boy. He was taken to St. Francis hospital. The axe had missed cleaving through the skull into the boy's brain by what may be described as a hair-breadth, say the doctors.

Several stitches were put in the wound and a plentiful top dressing of soothing and antiseptic ointment applied. Last night the boy was playing around his home as if he was in the best of health, but his assailant, was not out of doors. Mrs. Nolan declined to make any complaint. Master Nolan will be a frequent visitor at St. Francis hospital for two or three weeks to come.

WOMAN BROKER DECLARED THAT SHE IS A BANKRUPT

BOSTON, June 7.—August M. Clark, a woman broker in this city, with an office in the Smith building, 15 Court square, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court, in which she gives her liabilities at $11,343.38, all unsecured. Her only asset, she claims, is 50,000 shares of the United States Molybdenum company, of which Raymond Hayes is trustee. The value of the shares, it is stated, is not known.

There are but five creditors, George L. Hutchins of Boston being the largest one, with a claim for $10,000, which is money loaned the petitioner.

INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW

LONDON, June 8.—This was the third day of the international horse show. Judge Moore of New York was awarded the first and second prizes with Robin Hood and Marie respectively, in the class for single harness horses exceeding 15.2 hands shown to a brougham.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—Perfect weather conditions favored the contestants in the championship tournament of the Women's Eastern Golf association which began today at the Huntingdon Valley Country club at Noble. The field is a fine one, including some of the best golfers of Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

The competition will consist of 72 holes, medal play, 18 holes to be played on each of the four days of the tournament.

MINERS RESUME WORK

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 8.—In accordance with the agreement reached last night between General Manager May of the Pennsylvania Coal company and the committee representing the 12,000 striking anthracite miners there was a resumption of work at many of the collieries today. The grievances of the miners will be adjusted by the anthracite conciliation board.

ARTIST MAY DIE

NEW YORK, June 8.—Lying face downward on the sidewalk with a deep wound in his scalp, Victor Julius, an artist, was removed in a critical condition to Bellevue hospital today.

The police are mystified by the affair. He was exceedingly well dressed but his torn and disarranged clothing indicated that he had had a desperate struggle. No weapon of any kind was found near Julius.

TO MEET ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—President Taft today asked Secretary Meyer and Secretary Wilson, both of whom were in the Roosevelt cabinet, to go to New York, June 18, to meet Col. Roosevelt on his return from Africa. The president will also send a letter to Col. Roosevelt by hand of Captain Archibald Butt, his military aide, who served in a like capacity to Mr. Roosevelt.

GEN. RIVAS' THREAT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Consul Moffat at Bluefields has confirmed the press report to the effect that Gen. Rivas, commanding the Madriz forces at the bluff, has threatened to prohibit American-owned vessels of Nicaragua register but carrying the United States flag from passing the bluff to and from Bluefields if the vessels at any time have been in the service of the revolutionary party. Commander Hines of the Dubuque informed General Rivas that he would not permit any interference with the movements of American-owned vessels and that if they were fired on he would consider it sufficient grounds for attacking the bluff. The Prairie, with two companies of marines, has left Colon for Bluefields.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

HARTFORD, Ct., June 8.—There remained but two players to complete the first round of the singles, and six of the eight second round matches had been played, when the contestants in the annual tennis tournament for the championship took the courts today for the second day's matches. Doubles play, the drawings for which were made last evening, will begin this afternoon.

BOARD OF TRADE

Held Annual Meeting and Re-elected Board of Officers

Reports of Officers and Committees, Reviewing the Work of the Year—Navigation of the Merrimack Discussed by Jas. O'Sullivan

The Board of Trade held its first annual meeting under the new by-laws yesterday afternoon. The board of officers was re-elected as follows: President, Harvey B. Greene; first vice president, Albert O'Sullivan; second vice president, John A. Hunnewell; third vice president, Edward B. Carney; treasurer, William F. Ellis; auditor, William Cogger; clerk, (corporation), John H. Murphy; secretary, board of directors.

Pres. Greene's Recommendations
President Greene, instead of giving a written report, made several recommendations. He suggested that the board has now reached a size and importance to require the services of the secretary for his full time. He urged the members of the board to support the plan of the committee on health (corporation), John H. Murphy, secretary, board of directors.

HARVEY B. GREENE

crowding of land. He declared that the proposed state law proposed by the committee on streets of the board of trade, by the terms of which land development should not be undertaken without proper reference to the location, direction and width of streets, the city authorities having a supervision over the plans for new streets, was a matter of vital importance and should be backed by the members of the board.

New Charter Needed
President Greene also declared that the board of trade should take up again this year the plans for a new city charter, agreeing upon a sufficiently comprehensive system to secure a single board of government, a short ballot and the elimination of party designations. This would save the city more money, he said, than any other one effort the board could undertake.

He suggested the plan tried in other cities, of interesting the young men of the city, especially sons of the members of the board of trade, in local industries and educational institutions. He declared that young men could be drawn into the mechanical lines of trade and the textile industries by being made familiar with the opportunities offered at the Textile school and by a careful examination of the manufacturing methods of the mills here. The president also called attention to the new through train from Portland to New York, via Lowell, which would be a great convenience to Lowell business men and travelers. This was a symptom of further advantages to come, he expected, and he favored the merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad with the Boston and Maine as tending to bring about better communication between Lowell and places in the south and west.

Urges Civic Enthusiasm
In concluding his recommendations, President Greene declared that no good ever came of talking down a city and that Lowell men should speak with hearty confidence to Lowell business men and travelers. This was a symptom of further advantages to come, he expected, and he favored the merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad with the Boston and Maine as tending to bring about better communication between Lowell and places in the south and west.

The meeting was well attended. Preceding the annual meeting, the directors met and completed their business for the year. It was voted to place the matter of an outline in the hands of the executive committee with full powers, the idea being to make the outline well worth while as well as inexpensive. It is expected that representatives of all the boards of trade in the Merrimack valley will be present and a decided boom for a navigable river can be started.

Sec. Murphy's Report
Secretary John H. Murphy read his annual report which was in part, as follows:

In preparing this report your secretary has necessarily drawn from an examination of the records of your meetings, and it must be evident that a report so prepared will lack the life that a report prepared from a personal knowledge of the work would contain.

The adoption of the new by-laws last January provides that the annual meeting will be held the first Tuesday in June. Although the present officers of your board have had but four and one-half months to develop their ideas, yet the work which they have accomplished is indeed commendable.

Great praise is due your officers whose work is an endorsement of the policy of being alive to any situation. Results apparent to us all speak for themselves. Great credit should be given the members of the executive committee, who have worked unceasingly and have given freely of their valuable time to make a success of the organization.

Your standing committees—each member working in harmony with its chairman toward the single goal of success—are in no small measure responsible for the high mark of efficiency reached by this year's development.

Executive Committee
The creation of an executive committee which meets once a week, has proved itself a step of great wisdom. It is obvious that the interest shown by the members of this committee, together with the attention paid by your worthy retiring secretary to the publicity end of the work is responsible for the great strides made in enlisting the interest of the general public in your honored body. This committee being in touch with the secretary, and the work at all times, has been the best of great results. The success of this venture will be better appreciated in time. The men selected to act on this committee should be measured only by their ability, their interest in the working of the organization and their willingness to give their time to this cause.

Membership
The membership committee, which this year consisted of 20 members, did very successful work. The work was under the guidance of Robert F. Marden, chairman of the committee, and the other members were: M. Marks, Louis Alexander, Frank Hicard, Alvo H. Clay, William Cogger, George H. Daniels, Daniel P. Carroll, Bart Scannell, Jr., Arthur F. Taber, W. H. Boulker, H. Stanley Chrysler, E. B. Carney, Carl M. Phil, Royal K. Dexter, George W. Trull, J. A. Hunnewell, H. S. Deschamps and Walter Gayette, and the membership has grown in four months from 437 to close to 700.

A continuance of the good work accomplished by this committee should be encouraged and the campaign for new members renewed. A membership contest should be inaugurated, with a reward to the team making the best showing, and the enthusiasm which will develop will strengthen our numbers and influence.

The Annual Banquet
The great event of the past four months was the 23d annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade, March 15, at Lincoln hall, with 380 members of this board attending. All present voted the affair the banner event of the organization. A tempting menu was prepared

Hubbard's orchestra furnished the music. Rev. Dr. D. J. Keeler pleaded for the city beautiful and was well received. Col. Sidney O. Rigney of Attleboro delivered a discourse on the Panama Canal. His talk was voted very instructive. Public Lectures
April 7, 1910, will long be remembered by members of the Lowell board of trade who attended the illustrated lecture held in Harrington hall. The speaker of the evening was Arthur A. Shurtlett of Boston, an expert in city planning, who described conditions of streets and city planning in a very intelligent manner and displayed some very fine views. A course of lectures on topics concerning board of trade work should be inaugurated as great results are obtained by their use. The report then reviewed what had been done for better transportation.

NOW'S THE TIME FOR EXPERIMENTING.

Every Baseball Manager Should Know
What His Youngsters Can Do.

In Hughie Jennings' opinion the real baseball race never starts to be run until after each team has entertained each one of its seven rivals and also gone visiting over the entire circuit; hence this is the time to experiment, quoth he.

"Sure as sin this is the time of the season to try out your youngsters, particularly pitchers. Unknown material is of no use to any manager," says popular Hughie.

"I always start early to find out just what's what in my new flock. So that's the reason I am using Pernoli and Browning so regularly. And, say, they're two beauts. Pernoli has already shown the fans the stuff he's got and the stuff he's made of.

"Browning is little; but, oh, me, oh, my! He's another Clark Griffith. In the days when the Cincinnati manager was pitching he took the whole bakery for having you guessing. He never had much of an arm. But what a head! Griff was all the time crossing you. Whatever you were looking for you didn't get. Well, Browning is the same kind of a workman."

"When Mr. Hitter is expecting the fast one he gets the slow, and when he thinks the curve is coming along up bobs the straight one. The kid hasn't a world of speed, but he's got enough, especially considering his wisdom. I never did go very far on young fingers, but I think it fair to average one a year on your team. Now, I dug up Summers, didn't I? And I came back with Willett. I don't know exactly what my best bet is going to be this season. But watch and see if I don't dig up a juvenile who will not only stick, but who will deliver the goods with it."

He knows all about Mullin, Donovan, Willett, Summers, Works and Kilian. It's Pernoli, Browning, Stroud and that kind that are worrying him. So as matters are going he will know everything about them long before the pinch comes.

All of which is further proof that Happy Hugh is a wise baseball soul. He wants his machine to be in such shape that it will be invincible from July 4 on. If something he doesn't know anything about is to happen he wants it to happen quickly, so that he won't be up against it at the eleventh hour.

Joe Tinker Once a Pitcher.

Joe Tinker, the Chicago National star shortstop, was once a pitcher. Few fans today know that Joe once was sold for about $25. Just think of the leagues that would scramble over themselves to get Tinker for that sum today or many times that amount. Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers prides himself on his ability to pitch, and he doubtless would make a fine one, for Ty is a natural player and could fit in anywhere. The same is true of Lajoie of the Naps. It would not surprise the world if Lajoie today could win a good percentage of games in the box.

CRACK FIRST SACKERS IN DEMAND IN THE TWO MAJOR LEAGUES

By TOMMY CLARK.
CRACK first basemen are in demand by the two big leagues this season. In fact, there are several major league club owners who would give all kinds of money to land star first basemen. Among them are New York, Pittsburgh and Boston in the National and Chicago, St. Louis and Washington in the American.

There was a time when an old catcher with his throwing arm gone could play first base and get away with the job, but not so now. It takes a real ball player who has everything that every other member of the club has, and then some, to make good in the big leagues as a first sacker. The old style first basemen, slow on his feet, unable to throw to third on anything like a line and a miserable fielder of bunts and fast grounders, couldn't hold a job in baseball today.

In the National league New York has only a fair one in Merkle, who has succeeded Fred Tenney. He may develop into a crack with more experience, but at present he gives very little evidence of showing that he classes with the masters of the job. Manager McGraw made many efforts to land Konetchy of St. Louis, but failed, for Manager

Bresnahan said McGraw might as well try to buy the rock of Gibraltar as to try to get hold of his star first sacker.

Brooklyn has a good one in Daubert, who succeeded Tim Jordan. Daub, old hose, is not a chicken, having first based for many years, but he is delivering the goods.

The Boston Nationals have a fairly good one in Sharpe. The erudite and foxy leader Frank Chance of Chicago isn't shy on first basemen, though. He is all there himself, of course.

Cincinnati is all right. Hoblitzel is the real walloping kid and can play the base besides. Philadelphia is fairly well off with Bransfield.

The champion Pirates seem to have discovered a good one in Flynn. The St. Louis Nationals are all to the good, for Eddie Konetchy is a star both on the bag and at whanging the leather on the heavy pedal.

The New York Americans are all right, for Hal Chase is right in the zenith of his playing powers.
Boston's Red Sox are well off with

Jake Stahl. The big boy can cover the bag superbly and seems to be getting better all the time as a slugger. Connie Mack still relies on Harry Davis, a most artistic and capable player, but one who is beginning to grow old.

McAleer, at Washington, is perplexed. Bob Umlauf is a pretty good first basemen, but is also useful in other places.

Comiskey's two great first basemen, Isbell and Donohue, are both gone now, and he is trying out Gandil with only problematical success. Cleveland has a crack in George Stovall.

The champion Detroit Tigers are worried, inasmuch as Tom Jones is slowing up and getting a little listless. Jennings would be glad to hear from a lively kid with first base ability.

St. Louis is not satisfied with Abstein, the former Pittsburgher. O'Connor is trying hard to make a first basemen out of Dode Criss, his star pinch hitter and pitcher.

Great chances for young first basemen these days if there were only a few such to be found!

SAM LANGFORD SAYS HIS HEAD IS MADE OF IRON.

Sam Langford, colored heavyweight of Boston, happened to witness three white boys put out by having their heads strike the floor in a New York boxing club recently. One seemed to be in pretty bad shape for an hour or so, but came around later. In talking of the affair shortly after Langford said: "It certainly am a'prisin' to me how all these heah white boys hurt themselves by fallin' on their heads. I can't account for it no how. Bless my soul, but their heads mus' be brittle. Now, if I had my way 'bout it and had to fall, though none of these heah boys seem to be pushin' me down very hard, I would jes' say, 'Lemme fall on my head.' If I was knocked so stiff I could see a flock of comets and was sush I was goin' to fall on my head I would feel puffy like safe. And the more these boys slam me on the head the better I like it. Seems puffy like ridin' for these boys to be hurting their heads all the time."

HARNESS RACING OUTLOOK.

Readville, Hartford and New York in Line With Rich Cards.

The outlook for the harness racing world, especially in the east, this season grows brighter every day, and the way things are shaping themselves brings hope that the sport will soon be back on the footing of half a dozen years ago, when the east was the favorite racing ground of the country.

Readville (Boston), Hartford, Conn., and New York recently closed their cards, and there is not the slightest doubt but that all of the big line stables will ship east. Syracuse, N. Y., has a splendid track, and the management at Buffalo was assured of liberal patronage from owners of campaigning material before the closing date.

Andy Welch has clung to his original program at Readville—the $15,000 American Derby, $10,000 Massachusetts stake for 2:14 trotters, $3,000 Bunker Hill for 2:35 pacers and $2,500 Norfolk for 2:14 pacers. The Derby is for horses that have at least started in one race, with $10,000 going to the trotters and $5,000 for pacers. The distance for the slowest horses will be a mile and an eighth. This will not make it necessary for trainers to work their horses out of the ordinary, as they were obliged to do last year.

The Massachusetts will be a two in three event, so that horses starting in the Derby can have a second engagement for that week if desired. The amateur race which has made such a hit will be on the Readville program, but as a late closing event.

The Connecticut fair, through its manager, J. H. Butterfield, announces the twenty-fifth renewal of the $10,000 Charter Oak purse for 2:09 trotters, which is to be the headline of Hartford's grand circuit meeting. That the Hartford folks are not worrying any about the big stables coming east is shown by the fact that, in addition to the Charter Oak, they have opened a $2,500 free for all trot, a $2,500 2:16 pace and a $2,500 2:16 trot. The latter is along the line of the Tavern stake at Cleveland, with amateurs to drive.

The Charter Oak will be a three heat affair, with a novel entrance condition, horses named May 31 getting in for 1 per cent, those named June 20 paying 2 per cent, July 30 3 per cent and those waiting until Aug. 23 4 per cent. This makes it possible for horses to enter and start for 2 per cent, a very low entrance.

The New York program will consist of five $3,500 guaranteed stakes—the Donner Memorial, 2:25 class, trotting; the Fleetwood, 2:13 class, trotting; the Speedway, 2:13 class, trotting; the Union, 2:13 class, pacing; and the Fashion, 2:10 class, pacing.

All will be under the short system of best two in three rules of the National Trotting association. Some exceptions, however, are made in the conditions and system of racing for the Speedway, which is exclusively for amateur drivers who are members of the League of Amateur Driving Clubs. The contests are to be wagon drivers to carry not less than 175 pounds.

ARE BONUSES GOOD FOR NATIONAL GAME?

Star Pitchers Run Great Risks in Striving For Extra Pay.

Are bonuses to pitchers for winning a certain number of games a good thing for baseball? This question is as much in mind this summer as ever. Several big league club owners have offered their star twirlers sums of money providing they win thirty or more games.

When George Mullin had so much difficulty in pulling down his prize for winning twenty-five games last season the Detroit management gave it out that no more bonuses would be offered, as it appeared to handicap this clever twirler to a great extent as he neared his goal.

At the first glance this offer appears generous enough. When we think of the great number of games in a league schedule it seems easy enough for a pitcher to win the required number, but it isn't.

Chase back through the records of the National league and see how many pitchers have won thirty games. Joe McGinnity won just thirty for Brooklyn in 1900. Not until 1903 did another pitcher reach the mark. That year Joe copped thirty-one victories, and Christy Mathewson reached the mystic number. The following year the great "Iron Man" won thirty-five to Christy's thirty-three games.

In 1905 Mathewson was the only twirler to pass the mark, winning thirty-one battles. The next year brought not a single thirty victory pitcher, but in 1908 Christy came to the fore again with thirty-seven victories. Last year Mordecai Brown led all with twenty-seven victories.

The story of the American league twirlers is similar. Cy Young marched in victorious thirty-one times in 1901, representing the Boston club. The next season he added one to his string, making it thirty-two victories. He led all his league's slab performers in 1903, but won only twenty-eight games.

Jack Chesbro was the shining light of 1904, his greatest year in baseball. He brought home the bacon forty-one times for the Highlanders, establishing a record for wins in a single season under modern conditions. Bill Bernhard of the Naps came within one game of landing inside the Murphy limit.

Until Ed Walsh's great year in 1905, when he won forty games and lost but fifteen, the American league didn't fifteen, the American league had but one pitcher with forty victories to the Tigers won twenty-nine games and led all his competitors.

SPORTING CHIPS.

The new stadium in Kansas City, Mo., is to be used for various athletic meetings.

The Canadian Whippet Racing club of Toronto is to hold contests all during the summer months.

The National Dog Breeders' association will hold its first show in September during the state fair at Sacramento, Cal. This is the entering wedge of the new organization, which is already in a flourishing condition.

In the final soccer matches for the cup emblematic of the English championship, which have been played at the Crystal Palace since 1895, the total attendance has been 1,194,162 and the net receipts $248,260.

Jimmy Cosgrove, the Argonaut Rowing club sculler of Toronto, recently arrived in England, where he will try to life the Diamond sculls at Henley on July 5. He has a rabbit's foot with him, the gift of an admirer.

McAlier Will Leave Umps Alone. Manager Jimmy McAlier of Washington has reformed.

"I have warned my men," he says, "to cease taking exception to decisions, no matter how rank. And I am going to do the same myself. There is nothing in fighting an umpire but defeat."

Boston Doves Wallop Right Handers.

TY COBB'S GREAT SLIDE EXPLAINED

Spiking the Fault of the Fielder In
Awkward Attempt to Touch Him

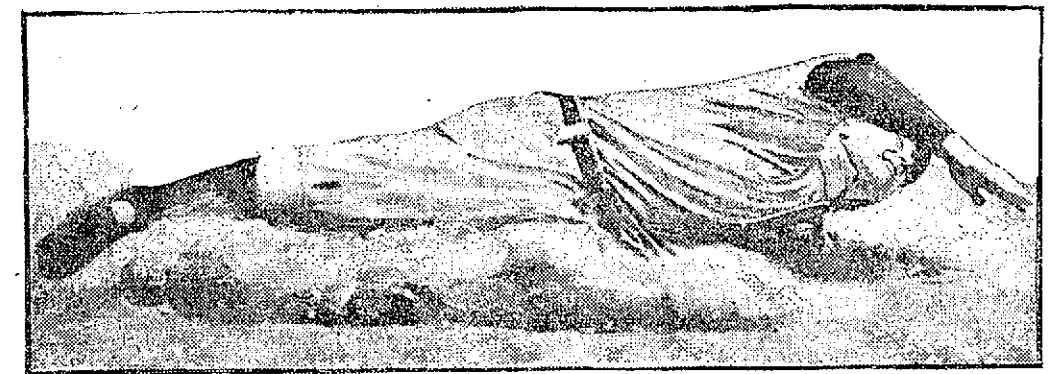

EVER seen Ty Cobb, the great batter and right fielder of the Detroit Americans, slide for a base? No? Well, next time you get the opportunity go see him. This fellow has the prettiest slide of any ball tosser in the game. Cobb perhaps spiked more players last season than any other three men in his league. Because of his well known ability, because of the high position they are not all excited over the pennant race, who would swear that Cobb tried to put different players out of the running by the use of his steel spurs.

Cobb has a slide peculiarly his own. Unlike most others, Cobb doesn't slow down before starting to slide, but hits the turf at almost his full speed. One of his legs is thrown in the direction of the bag, the other usually high in the air, while his body is thrown in the opposite direction from the base-of touching the runner to show up Cobb's slide, just as Cobb's slide shows up basemen who rather fear touching him in order to avoid possible injury. It is always a treat to watch Cobb try to steal third with Bobby Wallace of the St. Louis Browns playing the bag or see him attempt to pifer second with Wallace as shortstop taking the throw from the catcher.

There are any number of American league infielders who are very clever occupied by the Detroit club in the race, because of the fact that in several cases the men spiked by Cobb were members of teams regarded as Detroit's most dangerous rivals, it was openly stated that Cobb had intentionally spiked these men in order to weaken the Tigers' strongest opponents. But this is not so.

While it may often look from the stand as if Cobb is deliberate in his attempts to injure, yet there are few players, if really asked for an honest opinion during the off season, when man. In other words, when Cobb goes into a base feel, first about the only thing the runner has to touch is the spikes on one of his shoes. Thus the feat of touching Cobb is a rather difficult as well as dangerous task. Then, again, there are many basemen who don't fancy touching Cobb any too well, and quite often in trying to safely position themselves they get in the very spot that makes the play dangerous.

Cobb's fadeaway slide is the work of an artist. It takes an artist in the art at touching a base runner, but no one has anything on Bobby Wallace. He is an adept at handling a thrown ball with one hand, and unless the catcher happens to make a throw that is right on the runner there isn't a chance for Wallace to be spiked. Cobb goes into Wallace with terrific speed. The latter takes the throw in his gloved hand, hooks the ball under Cobb's foot and starts him off in some direction other than the bag. Cobb has often missed the bag at least a foot after being touched out by Wallace.

It doesn't look to me like a square fight anyhow. This thing of not getting down to training looks queer. It may be all right for Johnson, for he can come around all right in six weeks, but Jeff won't round to in six years. To a man up a tree it seems as if Jeff needed some money and to get it he had to make a feat at getting down to business. Whether he wins or loses, this fight is worth $20,000 to him, and that will put him on "Easy street" again. I don't think it is possible—I don't believe Jeff thinks it is possible—for him to win against Johnson. If the stories about Jeff and Johnson in training were not pure don't you suppose they would soon put a stop to them, for they are certainly hurting the fight from a financial standpoint? It must be true or the newspapers wouldn't say so."

VERSATILE BALL PLAYER.

Manager Sample Good in Box, Behind Bat and at First.

When it comes to versatility Guy Sample, manager of the East Liverpool team in the D. and P. league, has almost all the other fellows lost in the woods. Guy is a first class pitcher—the baseball guides for particulars—is a good catcher and has few superiors in the minor leagues at first base.

Sample, who was in the Cotton States league two years ago, cast his fortunes with Zanesville in the Central last summer and, with the aid of Young Walker, now with the Washington Americans, succeeded in putting the city on the map. Almost all season he worked in the box and fooled nearly every team in Doc Carson's circuit.

One day in midyear Catcher "Ducky" Holmes, formerly of the St. Louis Nationals, was injured. Sample was in the box. He tossed the ball to another slasher and donned the wind paid. He stayed behind the bat for a week too. Later when the first basemen was hurt Guy gave a sample of his work on the initial sack, and it certainly was excellent.

This year he has elected to do the catching exclusively at East Liverpool, as he feels he can catch the twirlers to better advantage.

Milan Playing Great Ball.

Clyde Milan, Washington's star outfielder, is unquestionably playing the best ball of his career this season. Not only is he hitting well and getting on the bases one way or another more than any other player in the league, but his fielding is nothing short of sensational.

PITCHER WALTER JOHNSON IN CLASS BY HIMSELF, SAYS JENNINGS.

Hughie Jennings believes that Walter Johnson, the star young twirler of the Washington Americans, has more natural ability than any other pitcher in the game today. "What other pitcher can feel some of the best batsmen into striking out with three fast balls that cut the center of the plate?" I know of none. Johnson does this repeatedly, and it is convincing proof to me that he has more than any of the other twirlers in the game today. It has been his misfortune to be with a team that did not score many runs behind him or I am satisfied he would lead the pitchers. I have seen a lot of pitchers in my time, but I must take off my hat to Johnson when it comes to having the stuff, for he is in a class by himself."

PLAYERS' QUEER STUNTS.

Almost Any One Can Tell Cleveland Players by Their Peculiar Actions.

Baseball players, like every one else, have their peculiarities. Did you ever notice how the Cleveland players stand when they come to bat? Not a man but has some trick that would make him known to the fans even though they could not see his features. Lajoie draws a line between himself and the plate. Then if he misses a couple of pitched balls he whangs the front of the plate vigorously with his bat and points the big end of the club at the pitcher.

George Stovall always straddles his legs apart, hitches up his belt, pulls down the peak of his cap and gives his pants another hitch. The less success he has in battling the more frequent the pulling of pants and cap.

Bill Bradley usually moves to the striking place slowly. When he arrives he carefully puts one foot well front and one well back. Then he stands with legs apart and holds his bat straight across the plate. When he swings at the ball his whole body moves, but his feet remain still.

Justin Clarke always hustles to bat. He hits the plate, but not in the same way Lajoie does. He taps it with little nervous jerks of the bat. If he misses a ball or two he waves his bat in front of the catcher in a little circle and hops around on one foot.

"Big" Ed Flinchman walks to bat with much dignity. Bill holds his bat on his shoulder and makes no preliminary movements. When a ball comes along that he thinks he can hit he swings, and if he misses he swings at the next one. Bill has no characteristic attitudes. Bristol Lord pulls his cap down as though trying to hide his ears when he bats.

BASEBALL CHIRPS.

Tommy Leach, Hans Wagner and Fred Clarke have been playing together for thirteen years.

Outfielders Ellis and Oakes are attracting national attention by their brilliant work for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hugh Jennings is not sure that rooting helps a ball team in the long run. The players become accustomed to the rooting on the home grounds and miss it on the road.

Outfielder Bescher of the Cincinnati is making a strong bid for the automobile or aeroplane or whatever it is somebody is giving or might give for the best base runner.

Among other things Hans Wagner has as souvenirs is the first uniform he ever wore on a ball field. The uniform was the property of John S. Robb, Jr., a leading lawyer of Pittsburgh, who recently presented it to Wagner.

ARTHUR KOHLER BREAKING WORLD'S SHOT PUT RECORD.

Recently in the interscholastic meet in Ann Arbor Arthur Kohler of Lansing, Mich., put the twelve pound shot 51 feet 6 1/2 inches, a new world's record.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

The Indians Believe That She is a Witch

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 8.—Driven by fear of death at the hands of her tribe, whose members believe her to be a witch, Mamie Holmes, 16 years old, an Indian girl, has walked for more than 100 miles from the Coachella reservation to Santa Manuel reservation, near Highland. The girl was taken in charge by Indian Agent Royce, who says that he learned several days ago of preparations to torture and kill her. She will be sent to the government school at Phoenix.

Sufficient proof to the Indians that the girl is a witch were the facts that several on the reservation were made ill, a pumpkin withered after the girl's shadow had fallen on it, and a big dog chained up in front of her parents' shack howled all night. She was shunned and one evening when she saw the aged leaves gather on a hill at sundown and indulge in strange rites she slipped away and was four days reaching Santa Manuel reservation.

LAWYER HAS NEW EVIDENCE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8.—That the fund of approximately $3000 raised to kill the fish bill in the legislature went to "sweeten" the general legislative "jackpot," is the belief of State's Attorney Burke who today returned from his third trip to Beardstown, laden with the new evidence.

The prosecutor says he is on the trail of at least one man who he believes handled the fish bill fund after it had been paid to Frank Trout of Beardstown in the St. Nicholas hotel.

MAN ARRESTED WOMAN SAYS HE THREW HER INTO RIVER

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Charged with throwing a girl into the Piscataquog river, John H. Barnshaw, 25 years old, was placed under arrest yesterday. The details of the affair, as given out by the police, are that two young women, Annie M. Vallancourt, aged 21, and Ida Blanchet, somewhat younger, met two men at the Union station and walked over Granite bridge to Second and Cleveland streets, near the second street bridge and proceeded to an island in the river where a bottle of whiskey was passed around. While on the island it is alleged that Barnshaw pushed the Vallancourt woman into the river.

efforts succeeded in rescuing the girl. The woman charged Barnshaw with having thrown her into the river, and after several hours of search he was found and arrested. He acknowledged being with her, but said that they were all drinking, and that she fell into the water, and was neither pushed nor thrown in.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—The abolishment of the office of coroner was urged by Dr. Goodwin, editor of the Missouri State Medical Association Journal, before the American Medical association in its session here today.

He presented a resolution asking the association through its house of delegates to favor the passage of state laws giving the medical functions of the coroner's office into the hands of a medical examiner and the judicial functions into the hands of the prosecuting attorney.

SOCIETY LEADER

Arrested on Charge of Picketing

BOSTON, June 8.—Mrs. Glendower Evans, a well known society leader, as well as an ardent suffragist and socialist, was arrested for picketing today in connection with a labor controversy in South Boston.

Miss Mabel Gillespie, secretary of the woman's trade union league, was also taken into custody and both were brought to the police station for violating a city ordinance.

After being warned by the officer in charge they were allowed to go on their own recognizance.

This is the second time in two months that Mrs. Evans has figured prominently in a strike in Boston.

RAPS INSURGENTS

CHANCELLOR DAY HAS SOME THING TO SAY ABOUT THEM

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 8.—Chancellor James R. Day, in his report yesterday to the trustees of Syracuse university, arraigned the insurgent republicans in congress and the administration of the Carnegie foundation fund. He said, in part:

"We believe that but for the insane assaults upon the commerce of the country, upon railways and manufactures, from which there are small signs of immediate relief, as the politicians do not seem to have discovered any other issue of equal demagogic effect, we would be able to report a couple of million more of increase in our endowments."

"The present aspects of the country are not flattering. No one can tell when insurgent cranks will be able to inject their wild-eyed socialistic theories into the business of the country by congressional act, or one can really tell what property is until after the supreme court's decision in the coming autumn."

The chancellor reviewed his published letters on the Carnegie foundation fund and continued:

"There is positive evidence, as I have said, that this erratic and inconsistent administration of the Carnegie foundation does not represent the intention or spirit of Mr. Carnegie."

ATTACK ON HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., June 8.—Halifax was the object of the attack of a "hostile force" today when a combined land and naval assault on the defenses was begun. BOOKER'S PETITION

DOVER, Me., June 8.—Local people will oppose the efforts of Charles W. Booker, who is seeking to obtain a pardon from the state prison at Thomaston, where he is serving a sentence of five years for breaking, entering and larceny at North Dexter. It is expected that County Attorney Burgess of Bangorville, who prosecuted the case against Booker, will appear before the governor and council in opposition to the pardon.

Booker was arrested for breaking into the general store of George Rocco at North Dexter, and although the crime was committed in Penobscot county, the case was prosecuted in this county, the store being located on the line between the two counties and under a special statute it came into Piscataquis. When being taken to Dover for trial, Booker attempted to escape.

CHARGES AGAINST PATENT MEDICINES

Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation in fact, and are manifestly unfair and unjust.

There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of American homes which have saved hundreds of dollars to families who could not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

MARRIES MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL
IN BERLIN SOCIETY

BERLIN, June 8.—Princess Agatha Von Ratibor, one of the most beautiful of the girls in the society of Berlin and Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Prussia, second cousin of Emperor William, were married at the new palace in Potsdam today. Dr. Dryander, the court preacher, performed the ceremony, following which Empress Augusta Victoria placed the Prussian crown upon the head of the bride. The nuptials were witnessed by many members of royalty from the minor German states.

The bride is the elder daughter of the duke Von Ratibor and is twenty-two years old. The prince is the third son of the late regent of Brunswick. His two older brothers, preferring to live abroad Frederick was appointed by the emperor administrator of the immense properties of the regent.

CHURCH CLUB CONFERENCE

PORTLAND, Me., June 8.—An address written by James Waterworth of St. Louis and read by Walter D. C. Moore of this city, assistant secretary of the conference, in the absence of Mr. Waterworth, who was unable to attend, was the matter of principal interest aside from the election of officers, at the closing session this morning of the National Conference of Church Clubs of the United States. The address treated on "Christian Missions in the Twentieth Century" and was followed by a pre-arranged discussion of considerable interest. Unfinished business, the selection of the place of the next meeting and installation of officers completed the business of the conference.

PUBLIC SALE

This stock of CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS, SHOES and GENERAL MERCHANDISE we have purchased at an average of 45 cents on a dollar in order to settle an estate, as the heirs were clamoring for their money. Each garment justifies a much greater price than we are asking, but then, we can afford to sacrifice on these goods as we bought them at 45 CENTS ON A DOLLAR. This sale will place before the people of Lowell a tempting array of seasonable merchandise at PRICES LESS THAN THE COST TO MANUFACTURE. You can search the city over and you won't find such BARGAINS as we offer at this GREAT SALE. Every article strictly as advertised. Money back for the asking if you are not satisfied with your Bargain. Just a few of the Bargains as we have not time to write sensational advertisements about these great values.
